Committee OKs Meriwether By Single Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a single vote, a Senate committee approved Charles M. Meriwether Thursday to be a director of the Export-Import Bank. Approval came after Meriwether, a segregationist, denied membership in the Ku Klux Klan.

It was the closest any nominee of President Kennedy has come to committee rejection, and it could foreshadow trouble in the full Senate. Chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said the nomination would not reach the floor before Monday.

With six senators not voting, the Banking Committee approved Meriwether by a 5-4 vote.

For 2½ hours, the Alabama was questioned closely about his views on segregation, the Klan, anti-Semitism, and politics.

Meriwether, state finance director, is a former campaign manager of Gov. John Patterson of Alabama. Patterson was one of the first Democratic governors to support Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Most of the controversy over Meriwether has been stirred by his past association with retired Adm. John G. Crommelin.

In recent years, Crommelin has run for a variety of offices in Alabama. Meriwether was Crommelin's campaign manager when he ran for the Senate in 1950. But Meriwether testified he severed ties with Crommelin later.

Meriwether added that Crommelin, in his campaign against Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., in 1950, had not made the extreme racist statements he said Crommelin has made in later campaigns.

A hint that Meriwether's nomination was headed for trouble emerged Wednesday at Kennedy's news conference.

Twice, the President was asked about Meriwether. In terse replies, the President supported the nomination but did not elaborate.

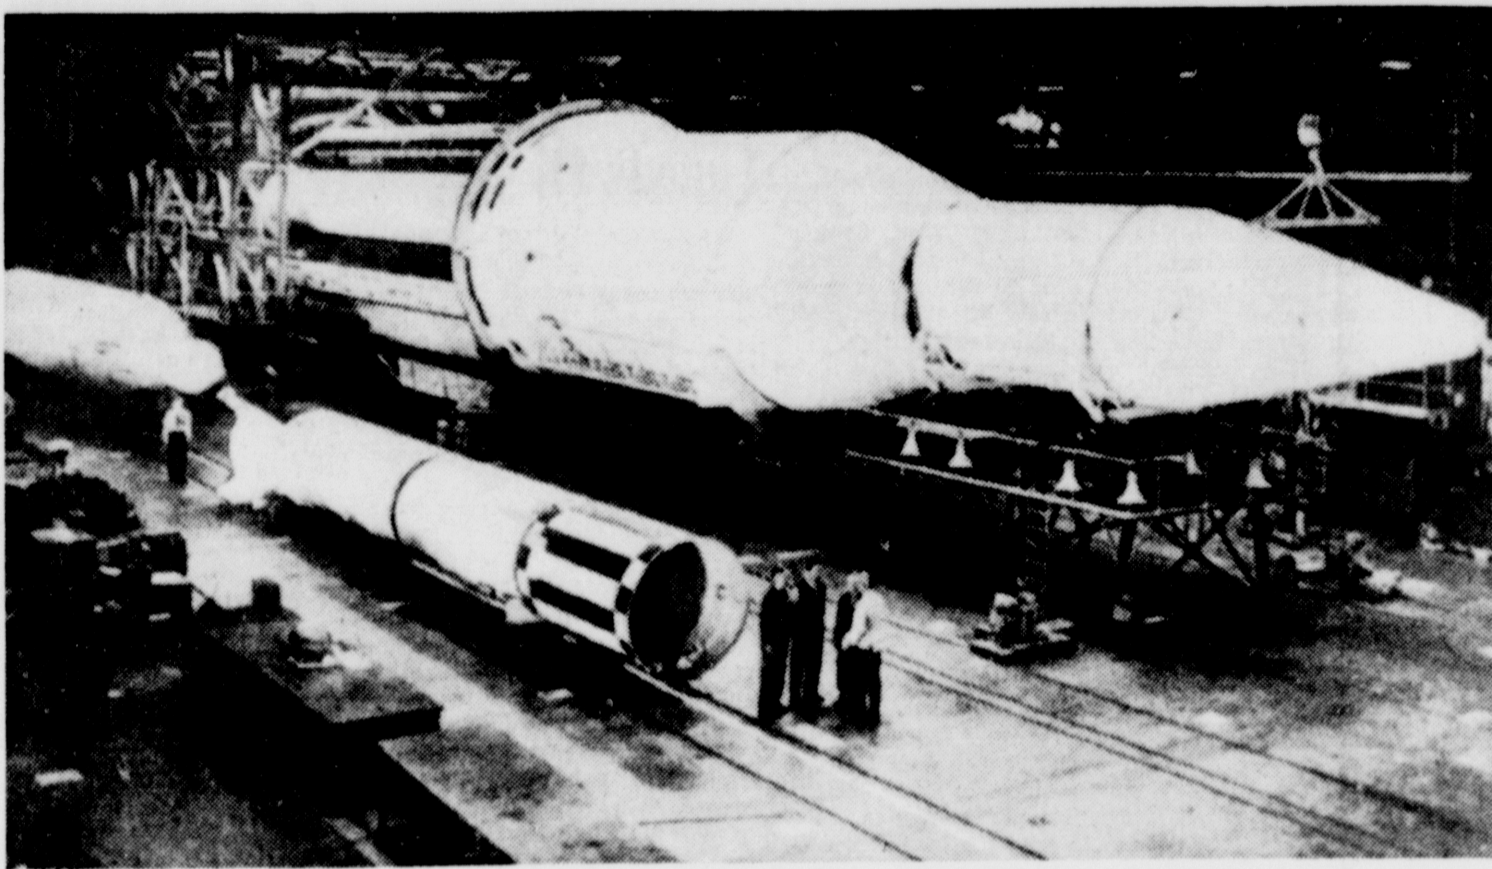

Asked if there was anything in Meriwether's background that might embarrass the administration, Kennedy replied: "No, I have sent Mr. Meriwether's name up there after reading the FBI report and records."

Algeria Rebels Expect French Peace Gesture

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—The Algerian rebel command said Thursday night it expects France soon will make a spectacular goodwill gesture aimed at speeding direct negotiations to end the Algerian rebellion.

The rebels, who Thursday morning accepted French President Charles de Gaulle's bid for peace talks, said they have "strong indications" France will transfer a top rebel leader from prison to a guarded residence near Paris as a gesture of good faith.

He is Ahmed Ben Bella, honorary rebel deputy premier captured by the French in 1956 and imprisoned since on the Island of Aix. Ben Bella holds enormous prestige among the rebels and they have demanded he be included in any peace talks.

Rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas announced acceptance of De Gaulle's bid at a conference in Rabat, Morocco, with King Hassan II of Morocco and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

He softened rebel demands for independence, saying in a joint communiqué after the conference that Algeria intends to join Morocco and Tunisia in a loose federation that would retain friendly ties with Paris.

Rebel officials said only "technical details" now separate them from meeting the French to discuss an end to the war that in 6½ years has cost thousands of lives on both sides.

In Paris, the unexplained absence of Algerian Affairs Minister Louis Joxe gave support to reports of behind-the-scenes activity. It appeared efforts toward a cease-fire were being intensified through secret channels.

But a cease-fire no longer is a French condition for talks. Information Minister Louis Terrenoire disclosed De Gaulle told Bourguiba in Paris Monday he no longer insists the rebels lay down their arms before negotiations start.

Rebel leaders always have refused this condition, saying a cease-fire would rob them of their most important weapon—the war itself.

Tanker Explosion After Crash Kills 6

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—The 1,240-ton Uruguayan destroyer Uruguay collided with the small oil tanker Shellneave in the River Plate Thursday. The tanker exploded and caught fire, killing at least six and injuring 13 men on board.

The collision occurred about noon in a dredged channel just off the small port of Colonia del Sacramento, opposite Buenos Aires on the Uruguay side of the river.

Numerous rescue craft plucked survivors from the flaming river, while thousands of onlookers watched from vantage points on shore.

The Uruguay, a former U. S. Navy vessel turned over to the Uruguayan government 10 years ago, reported no damage or casualties.

Attorney General Mixes Forward Pass With Suits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now we know why the attorney general keeps a football in his office. He keeps it there to have a football to throw around the office, of course.

The word that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy mixes the forward pass with antitrust suits came out at the Justice Department Thursday.

Visitors had been curious about the football on the fireplace mantel of Kennedy's fifth-floor office in the Justice Building, which is on just about the 40-yard line of downtown Washington.

Kennedy and Deputy Atty. Gen. Byron (Whizzer) White, it develops, toss the pigskin to and fro while deliberating matters of law.

Ethel Merman Plans First Tour In Musical

NEW YORK (AP)—Ethel Merman is going on her first national tour in the Broadway musical "Gypsy."

Producers David Merrick and Leland Hayward announced Thursday plans for the trip. A White Way run of 696 performances is to wind up March 25.

The tour opens March 29 in Rochester, N.Y. Bookings thereafter take the company to Detroit, Boston, Toronto, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

GOP Senators Cry 'Politics' In Seeking Judgeship Bill Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans raised a cry of "court-house politics" Thursday as Democratic leaders pressed for Senate passage of a bill to create 71 new federal judgeships.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the GOP floor leader, waged what looked like a losing fight to delay action.

"We want the judges," Dirksen said, "but we believe we are entitled to something more than one hour of hearings."

Dirksen wanted to send the bill back to the Senate Judiciary Committee for further hearings. He said Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy should be called before the committee and asked whether the new appointments would be divided equally between the parties, as former President Dwight D. Eisenhower offered to do last year.

Kennedy declined to make any such commitment when he testified Wednesday on a companion bill before the House Judiciary Committee. His brother, President Kennedy, would appoint the new judges.

As Senate debate got under way with an agreement that no final vote would be taken before Friday, Dirksen issued a statement. He said the bill "is indeed in keeping with the New Frontier spirit where courthouse politics was a highly cultivated art and where judgeships were considered among the most desirable political plums of all."

"It shall never be said," he added, "that the New Frontier is not maintaining the tradition of Andrew Jackson when political patronage reached its highest state of unrefined refinement."

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader, joined Dirksen in accusing the Democrats of playing politics with the judgeship bill.

Purdue's Famed 'Golden Girl' Dies

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Adele Darling Avery, the Purdue University "Golden Girl" who rocked the campus with her gridiron hula dance, died Thursday two days after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

Adele — she was known as Addie Darling on the campus — had been Mrs. Ralph Vell Avery III since her marriage last November—had not recovered consciousness since she was stricken in her campus apartment.

The 20-year-old ex-coed became the most famous baton twirler in the land when she broke into her hula at the Notre Dame-Purdue football game in 1958.

Two fellow Purdue coeds wrote the campus newspaper that Adele put too much into her hula. Male students gallantly denied it.

Titan Missile Fails To Complete Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—An Air Force Titan missile trying for an ocean-spanning flight Thursday night fell several hundred miles short of its goal when its second stage engine cut off too soon.

The first stage dropped off on schedule, and the second stage engine ignited on time. But a few seconds later, the upper portion's powerplant shut down.

The rocket, aimed at a target more than 6,000 miles away, off the west coast of Africa, instead fell into the Atlantic a little more than half that distance away.

Chemical Plant Blast Kills Two

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Earth-shaking blasts tore through two five-story chemical units at the Ethyl Corp. plant Thursday, apparently killing two workers and injuring 27.

Four explosions, rattling windows in the 34-story state Capitol building less than two miles south, rained bricks in the plant area. Workers fled for their lives.

A giant, mushroom cloud puffed upward some 3,000 feet, looking like an atomic blast column.

Breezes pushed the cloudy, chemical fumes across the Mississippi River, away from a residential section.

There were early reports a chlorine gas unit might be involved. School officials hurriedly evacuated a nearby public elementary school. But plant spokesmen gave assurances the gas unit was away from the blast area and the pupils returned to classes.

Emergency crews conquered massive flames that engulfed the explosion area.

The plant, employing 2,800 persons in the hub of the vast petrochemical industrial complex here, said two men, Charles R. Johnson, 50, a supervisor, and Urban A. Callais, 50, a tetraethyl lead operator, were missing and apparently dead.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union said Thursday it has lost radio contact with its Venus rocket. Tass news agency reported Soviet scientists were unable to establish radio contacts with the automatic interplanetary station last Monday—15 days after the rocket was launched from an orbiting space vehicle.

As long as the station remains in the zone of direct visibility to the territory of the Soviet Union, efforts will be made to establish radio contact with the automatic interplanetary station," Tass said.

It said the rocket is continuing its space flight on schedule and will be 6,683,600 kilometers—4,177,250 miles—from earth Friday.

188 Negro Marchers Arrested

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—A total of 188 Negroes and one white youth were herded off to jail Thursday when they defied a governor's aide and staged an anti-segregation demonstration on South Carolina's Capitol grounds.

The Negroes said they selected the Capitol as their target because that is "where the segregation laws are made."

Police lined up the demonstrators three abreast and marched them for 10 blocks down busy Assembly street to the city and county lockups.

While waiting to be shepherd off to confinement the Negroes voluntarily lined up in single file, clapping their hands and chanting.

The white youth arrested, Fred E. Hart, a freshman at the University of South Carolina, denied taking part in the demonstration.

He said he was sitting on a park bench when the protest started and felt he "had to shake hands with the arrested demonstrators because I was in sympathy with them."

He said he was jailed when "police officers forced me to answer whether or not he was in sympathy with the demonstration."

Police lodged 141 of the Negroes in City Jail. Hart and 47 other Negroes were held in the County Jail.

Because of lack of space several of the Negro girls were locked in the white women's section.

All were charged with breach of peace and Magistrate Frank Powell fixed bond at $50 each.

That was the refrain into telephones ringing constantly Thursday at the headquarters of the new Peace Corps launched by President Kennedy.

Response to the idea has been overwhelming, said Edwin Bayley, temporary public relations director at a headquarters that was set up about three weeks ago.

"That was a young married couple in Los Angeles," said Mitzi Mallina, hanging up the telephone. "A lot of the requests have come in from young married couples."

The idea of sending Americans overseas on a voluntary basis to help foreign countries meet needs for skilled manpower has brought in about 6,000 letters since Kennedy first mentioned it in his election campaign last year.

"They're enthusiastic," said it's wonderful, and they're excited about it," said Sally Bowles, who has been helping read letters, acknowledge and answer them for about three weeks.

Miss Bowles, 22, daughter of undersecretary of State Chester Bowles, said she hadn't been paid yet. "But I'm happy," she said.

Working in the office, too, was Nancy Gore, 23, daughter of Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn. Miss Gore came in Wednesday and stayed to help. As for her salary, she said: "It hasn't quite been determined yet — when, where or how much."

There has been "just talk" about athletes Rafer Johnson and Forest Evashevski working for the corps, Bayley said.

Johnson, a former track star at the University of California at Los Angeles and an Olympic decathlon champion, is assistant track coach at his alma mater.

Evashevski, athletic director at the University of Iowa, was a University of Michigan football star.

"Old Salty" Erupts
REGGIO EMILIA, Italy (AP)—La Salsa, Reggio Emilia's "Old Salty" geyser, erupted Thursday the night for the fourth time in 40 years. The 30-foot spout of boiling, salty water failed to live up to a century-old prediction that La Salsa would erupt some day into a true volcano and leave Reggio Emilia in ruins.

New Agency For Program Is Provided

$394 Million Plan
Follows Proposals
Made By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Banking subcommittee late Thursday approved a $394-million depressed areas bill largely in line with President Kennedy's recommendations.

On one important aspect, however, the subcommittee voted 5-4 to put the new program under an independent agency rather than in the Commerce Department as Kennedy had recommended.

The President said a new agency would be acceptable if Congress thought it best.

The legislation is expected to be cleared by the full Banking Committee early next week and taken up in the Senate soon thereafter.

The measure, whose chief sponsor is Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., the subcommittee chairman, was approved in the subcommittee with only one dissenting vote, that of Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah.

Bill Provides Loan Funds
But Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., said he reserved the right to seek changes in the full committee.

The bill carries these authorization designed to bring new jobs to communities which have suffered from persistent and high rates of unemployment.

— $100 million in loan funds to help build plants to attract new companies to depressed industrial areas.

— $100 million in loan funds for new plants in distressed rural areas.

— $100 million in loan funds to help build public facilities needed to attract industries to depressed industrial and rural areas. These would include such things as water supply and sewage treatment systems.

— $75 million in grants for public facilities in areas so badly hit that they cannot handle loans.

Technical Aid Grants
— $4½ million for technical assistance grants to depressed areas in working out redevelopment plans.

— $10 million for subsistence payments to persons undergoing retraining under the new program.

— $4½ million for retraining workers in depressed areas.

The final item was added in the subcommittee's closed-door consideration of the measure Thursday. It was not in the original draft, but Douglas said the retraining would be one of the most vital aids in the bill.

The Illinois senator explained that the retraining originally planned was only for workers in depressed areas to take jobs in plants that might be brought into such communities. But the purpose was broadened to include schooling of workers for employment outside of their own communities.

Condition Of Payne, Hit By Car, Improves

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor John Payne was on the critical list for a time Thursday from injuries suffered when hit by a car Wednesday night, but his condition improved rapidly late in the day.

The 48-year-old film and television star was under treatment at Roosevelt Hospital for two broken bones in the left leg, plus deep facial and scalp lacerations.

He was struck, hurled into the air and onto the hood of a car driven by Bernard Seiz, 21, a Wall Street research analyst. Payne was crossing Madison Avenue between 61st and 62nd streets during a rain and the driver said he did not see the actor.

Russia Reportedly Has 430 Submarines

LONDON (AP)—C. I. Orr-Ewing, civil lord of the British admiralty, said Thursday the Soviet Union's submarine fleet is now believed to number about 430.

He told the House of Commons he had no reason to doubt Premier Khrushchev's recent statement that this fleet includes nuclear-powered subs, and added: "It is clear that in recent years Soviet submarine fleets have been widening their operational experience by operating throughout the seven seas."

Kennedy's School Aid Plan Opposed By Leading Roman Catholic Prelates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leading Roman Catholic prelates Thursday said such aid would be unconstitutional. That stand was announced by the administrative board of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, which includes the five U.S. cardinals and ten archbishops and bishops who head conference departments. The board met here Wednesday at a time when Kennedy was repeating his previously stated position that the Constitution bars aid to parochial schools. Kennedy, himself a Catholic, did not say specifically that long-term, low-interest loans as proposed by the prelates would fall within the prohibition as he views it.

Ticklish Rail Wreck Cleanup Completed

CONNEERSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A five-day job of removing derailed freight cars of explosive chemicals was completed safely Thursday, and 92 families were notified they could return to their homes.

A big crane loaned by the Nickel Plate Railroad lifted a tank car with 10,000 gallons of ether back onto the tracks and Police Chief Charles H. Beckett ordered gas and electric service restored in the area.

Families had been kept from their homes since shortly after the derailment of 13 cars of a Baltimore & Ohio train Sunday morning.

Beckett said 415 elementary pupils will return Friday to St. Gabriel's Catholic school, three blocks from the wreck scene.

Youth Freed On Bond In Father's Slaying

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (AP)—A 19-year-old youth charged in the fatal shooting of his father waived a preliminary hearing Thursday and was bound over for grand jury action.

The youth, Charles E. Hurd, was released under $5,000 bond posted by his mother, Mrs. Helen L. Hurd.

The youth appeared before Magistrate Ernest S. Cookerly, who set the bond.

Hurd is charged with feloniously killing his father, John David Hurd Sr., 46, who was shot Wednesday at the family's home near here.

Road Revenue Distribution Problem Aired

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Senate Thursday wrestled with the problem of how to distribute Maryland gasoline tax money and other motor vehicle revenues.

The Senate Finance Committee got an explanation of a new formula for splitting up the pie, but it came minutes after the full Senate passed a joint resolution calling for further study of the problem.

The resolution was sponsored by two Finance Committee members, Sens. William S. James, D-Harford, and H. Winship Wheatley Jr., D-Prince Georges.

Under the current formula, the State Roads Commission gets 50 per cent of the fund, Baltimore City receives 30 per cent and the remaining 20 per cent is distributed among the counties according to their road mileage.

The new formula before the Finance Committee would distribute the highway money according to motor vehicle registrations after giving the commission its 50 per cent off the top.

A bill incorporating it was introduced by Sen. James A. Pine, D-Balto County. Montgomery, Prince Georges and Baltimore counties would gain under the formula.

The bill provides that no county would receive less under the new formula than it does under the mileage plan. In effect, the small counties would receive supplements from the larger ones until the small ones gained enough registrations to bring them up to their current level.

Charles Benton, the Baltimore City budget director, said the city would have lost $1.2 million if the plan were in operation this year. Benton disputed the argument that the city is receiving more than its share of highway money. He noted that State Police costs and other expenses from which the city doesn't benefit are paid out of the total fund before the city gets its 30 per cent cut.

Miss Bertha Adkins To Head Girls' School

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bertha Adkins, former undersecretary of welfare and long associated with Republican politics, was appointed Thursday to head Foxcroft School for Girls in Middleburg, Va.

Miss Adkins, of Salisbury, Md., was college administrator and dean before she went into politics.

Starting June 7, she will be in charge of the exclusive school of 125 girls, which was founded in the Virginia hunt country in 1914 and includes among its graduates the Duchess of Windsor and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

U.S. Newspaper Circulation Up Over Half-Million

NEW YORK (UPI)—Total daily newspaper circulation in the United States has increased by more than a half-million copies over a year ago, Editor & Publisher reported Thursday.

The trade publication noted also that eight new American dailies were born during the year to disprove what it called the "myth" of the disappearing daily "preached by competing media."

The figures, as quoted in the 41st Editor & Publisher International Year Book, are for the period ending Sept. 30, 1960.

GOP Leaders Guests Of JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy and his major Republican congressional foes observed an amiable 75-minute political truce Thursday as they dined together at the White House and Senate leaders were guests of the President for the lunch which everyone insisted was non-political.

"We all just had a very fine lunch," Kennedy said. "It was just social."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois described the get-together as "a rather interesting felicity." Other guests said no politics or legislative business was discussed.

Despite disclaimers, the President's bipartisan hospitality was viewed as a deft political move to maintain friendly relations with the key Republicans who will oppose many of his legislative proposals.

Post Office Program Speedup Ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy, in another move to fight the recession, Thursday ordered an immediate speedup in the $270 million post office construction program to provide idle workers with jobs and purchasing power.

The White House said construction of the new buildings now will be started during the next 18 months instead of the next 18 months as previously planned.

N. Y. Grand Jury Indicts Drifter In Girl's Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred J. Thompson, an alcoholic vagabond, was indicted Thursday on a first-degree murder charge in the sex-slaying of 4-year-old Edith (Googie) Kiecorius. The charge carries a mandatory death penalty upon conviction.

As the Manhattan grand jury completed the indictment in less than 24 hours, the little girl was laid to rest in a Long Island cemetery, far from the Manhattan slum where she was raped and slain last week.

Her widowed mother and her brother, Albion, 10, each tossed a single white flower as her sealed casket was lowered into a cemetery plot at Farmingdale, 40 miles from New York.

Thompson, 59, has admitted luring Edith to his Chelsea room on Washington's Birthday. Her body was found last Sunday.

Thompson, captured Tuesday in New Jersey, is scheduled to be arraigned Friday, after which he is expected to be sent to a mental hospital for examination to see if he can stand trial.

Stevenson Cautions USSR

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson counseled the Soviet Union Thursday to "think twice" about intervening in Africa, to avoid the possibility of sparking a nuclear war. The former Illinois governor, twice the Democratic nominee for president, said America means "something definite and practical" when it supports the ending of all outside intervention.

"Africa is the Balkans of today," the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations said at a luncheon given in his honor by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and the city government.

"Any outside power seeking to manipulate its griefs and searchings and first fumbling efforts to stand alone risks bringing down on Africa and on the world the dread possibility of nuclear destruction."

"Is this really what Mr. Khrushchev has in mind when he demands the withdrawal of the United Nations force and suggests instead that the Congo should become as the Balkans once were—the cockpit first of rival factions."

Kennedy's School Aid Plan Opposed By Leading Roman Catholic Prelates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leading Roman Catholic prelates Thursday opposed President Kennedy's plan to provide federal aid to parochial schools. The plan, which includes the five U.S. National Catholic Welfare Conference, which includes the five U.S. cardinals and ten archbishops and bishops who head conference departments. The board met here Wednesday at a time when Kennedy was repeating his previously stated position that the Constitution bars aid to parochial schools.

Differing with Kennedy, they said that stand was announced by the administrative board of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, which includes the five U.S. cardinals and ten archbishops and bishops who head conference departments. The board met here Wednesday at a time when Kennedy was repeating his previously stated position that the Constitution bars aid to parochial schools.

Kennedy, himself a Catholic, did not say specifically that long-term, low-interest loans as proposed by the prelates would fall within the prohibition as he views it.

The Most Rev. Karl J. Alter, archbishop of Cincinnati and chairman of the NCWC board, issued a statement concluding "in the event that a federal aid pro-

Ticklish Rail Wreck Cleanup Completed

CONNEERSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A five-day job of removing derailed freight cars of explosive chemicals was completed safely Thursday, and 92 families were notified they could return to their homes.

A big crane loaned by the Nickel Plate Railroad lifted a tank car with 10,000 gallons of ether back onto the tracks and Police Chief Charles H. Beckett ordered gas and electric service restored in the area.

Families had been kept from their homes since shortly after the derailment of 13 cars of a Baltimore & Ohio train Sunday morning. Beckett said 415 elementary pupils will return Friday to St. Gabriel's Catholic school, three blocks from the wreck scene.

The youth, Charles E. Hurd, was released under $5,000 bond posted by his mother, Mrs. Helen L. Hurd. The youth appeared before Magistrate Ernest S. Cookerly, who set the bond.

Hurd is charged with feloniously killing his father, John David Hurd Sr., 46, who was shot Wednesday at the family's home near here.

Road Revenue Distribution Problem Aired

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Senate Thursday wrestled with the problem of how to distribute Maryland gasoline tax money and other motor vehicle revenues.

The Senate Finance Committee got an explanation of a new formula for splitting up the pie, but it came minutes after the full Senate passed a joint resolution calling for further study of the problem.

The resolution was sponsored by two Finance Committee members, Sens. William S. James, D-Harford, and H. Winship Wheatley Jr., D-Prince Georges.

Under the current formula, the State Roads Commission gets 50 per cent of the fund, Baltimore City receives 30 per cent and the remaining 20 per cent is distributed among the counties according to their road mileage.

The new formula before the Finance Committee would distribute the highway money according to motor vehicle registrations after giving the commission its 50 per cent off the top.

A bill incorporating it was introduced by Sen. James A. Pine, D-Balto County. Montgomery, Prince Georges and Baltimore counties would gain under the formula.

The bill provides that no county would receive less under the new formula than it does under the mileage plan. In effect, the small counties would receive supplements from the larger ones until the small ones gained enough registrations to bring them up to their current level.

Charles Benton, the Baltimore City budget director, said the city would have lost $1.2 million if the plan were in operation this year. Benton disputed the argument that the city is receiving more than its share of highway money. He noted that State Police costs and other expenses from which the city doesn't benefit are paid out of the total fund before the city gets its 30 per cent cut.

Miss Bertha Adkins To Head Girls' School

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bertha Adkins, former undersecretary of welfare and long associated with Republican politics, was appointed Thursday to head Foxcroft School for Girls in Middleburg, Va. Miss Adkins, of Salisbury, Md., was college administrator and dean before she went into politics. Starting June 7, she will be in charge of the exclusive school of 125 girls, which was founded in the Virginia hunt country in 1914 and includes among its graduates the Duchess of Windsor and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

U.S. Newspaper Circulation Up Over Half-Million

NEW YORK (UPI)—Total daily newspaper circulation in the United States has increased by more than a half-million copies over a year ago, Editor & Publisher reported Thursday.

The trade publication noted also that eight new American dailies were born during the year to disprove what it called the "myth" of the disappearing daily "preached by competing media."

The figures, as quoted in the 41st Editor & Publisher International Year Book, are for the period ending Sept. 30, 1960.

GOP Leaders Guests Of JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy and his major Republican congressional foes observed an amiable 75-minute political truce Thursday as they lunched together at the White House and Senate leaders were guests of the President for the lunch which everyone insisted was non-political.

"We all just had a very fine lunch," Kennedy said. "It was just social."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois described the get-together as "a rather interesting felicity." Other guests said no politics or legislative business was discussed.

Despite disclaimers, the President's bipartisan hospitality was viewed as a deft political move to maintain friendly relations with the key Republicans who will oppose many of his legislative proposals.

Post Office Program Speedup Ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy, in another move to fight the recession, Thursday ordered an immediate speedup in the $270 million post office construction program to provide idle workers with jobs and purchasing power.

The White House said construction of the new buildings now will be started during the next 10 months instead of the next 18 months as previously planned.

N. Y. Grand Jury Indicts Drifter In Girl's Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred J. Thompson, an alcoholic vagabond, was indicted Thursday on a first-degree murder charge in the sex-slaying of 4-year-old Edith (Googie) Kiecorius. The charge carries a mandatory death penalty upon conviction.

As the Manhattan grand jury completed the indictment in less than 24 hours, the little girl was laid to rest in a Long Island cemetery, far from the Manhattan slum where she was raped and slain last week.

Her widowed mother and her brother, Albion, 10, each tossed a single white flower as her sealed casket was lowered into a cemetery plot at Farmingdale, 40 miles from New York.

Thompson, 59, has admitted luring Edith to his Chelsea room on Washington's Birthday. Her body was found last Sunday.

Thompson, captured Tuesday in New Jersey, is scheduled to be arraigned Friday, after which he is expected to be sent to a mental hospital for examination to see if he can stand trial.

4 Fishermen Drown

BARI, Italy (AP)—High seas caused by a storm in the Adriatic swamped two fishing boats off this southern Italian port Thursday, killing four fishermen.

Stevenson Cautions USSR

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson counseled the Soviet Union Thursday to "think twice" about intervening in Africa, to avoid the possibility of sparking a nuclear war.

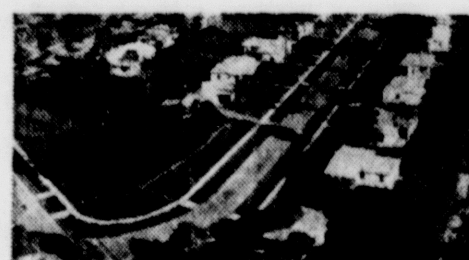

"Africa is the Balkans of today," the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations said at a luncheon given in his honor by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and the city government.

"Any outside power seeking to manipulate its griet and searchings and first fumbling efforts to stand alone risks bringing down on Africa and on the world the dread possibility of nuclear destruction."

"Is this really what Mr. Khrushchev has in mind when he demands the withdrawal of the United Nations force and suggests instead that the Congo should become as the Balkans once were—the cockpit first of rival factions."

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — Virginia Groth apparently is a woman born too late to be appreciated. She has solved the problem of dealing with horses refusing to drink when you lead them to water.

In an equestrian culture, she would be a heroine because of the way she's figured to trick a horse's palate.

"You can make him drink," she said, "if you salt him well first."

Miss Groth, expert in things gastronomic, is food service director at North Park College in Chicago.

She exploded the myth in the old saw about not being able to make a horse drink water in a report in—of all things—College and University Business, a professional journal.

Miss Groth brought up horses in her report to focus attention on some of the difficulties involved in pleasing palates.

Of course, there are no horses—at least not four-footed ones—in the cafeteria line at North Park College. But some of the customers served by Miss Groth's staff have trickier palates.

"Planning meals for thousands of college students—a most critical age group—day after day, ten months a year is no easy task," she said.

In the typical college dining room, she's found the following types of customers cause the most trouble:

—The young man who is an only child and who has had the every attention of his mamma since babyhood. He objects to too much butter, too little butter. He wants just a pinch of mayonnaise—and somehow knows how to pinch the dressing properly. He also waits if every speck of fat isn't removed from meat.

—The females who are watching their diets (or so they say) so the boys will watch their figures. The thin-thinking, overeating females see gravy, meat and potatoes on every dinner menu. Where salads are concerned, they have a blind-spot. They haven't learned to say no. They eat the fattening foods and a semester later blame the college food service for bulges.

The lean students, male and female, who lose a lot of weight elbowing their way through the cafeteria line to fetch the biggest of everything. They take one dessert and then reach for another because it seems bigger. In the process, desserts get spilled.

—The faddists or health food eaters will eat only lettuce grown in a certain state, tomatoes grown in another state and

Arguments On Rees Defense Motion Set March 15

BALTIMORE (AP)—U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen judgment of acquittal or a new Thursday set March 15 for argument for convicted kidnaper Melvin Davis Rees Jr.

Judge Thomsen said if the motions are denied he would immediately impose sentence on the 32-year-old musician from Hyattsville, Md., musician.

Rees was convicted last week of the kidnap of Mrs. Mildred Jackson and her daughter, Susan, 5. The bodies of the Apple Grove, Va., mother and daughter were found in Maryland two years ago.

Rees was convicted of taking Mrs. Jackson and the girl across the Virginia-Maryland line for the purpose of killing them. He was convicted under the federal Lindbergh law by an all-male jury which did not recommend the maximum penalty of death.

He faces now a possible life sentence under the federal conviction. Virginia authorities are considering seeking his removal from Maryland, to stand trial under Virginia charges of slaying all four members of the Jackson family.

Carroll V. Jackson Jr. and the couple's youngest child, Janet 1½, were found dead near Fredericksburg, Va., in March, 1959, 18 days before the bodies of the mother and older child were found in Maryland.

The family had disappeared in January, 1959, while returning home after a visit to relatives.

At Richmond, Commonwealth Atty. T. Stokely Coleman of Spotsylvania County said action to extradite Rees for murder trial in Virginia will be started as soon as possible.

Coleman said he felt, however, such action "still is some time off."

Coleman will be responsible for Rees' prosecution on charges of killing Jackson and Janet.

Next Thursday at Richmond there will be a top level conference, called by Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr., to plan what action the state will take against Rees.

Coleman said he still was concerned primarily with the problems entailed in getting Rees to Virginia and had not yet formulated his plans for prosecution.

Rees defense attorneys filed the motions for a directed verdict or a new trial Tuesday. They contended the government did not establish that Mrs. Jackson and Susan were alive when brought into Maryland, and that prejudicial testimony not directly connected with the case was admitted into the trial.

The verdict against Rees, who pleaded innocent, was returned last Thursday after a 17-day trial.

Rising Prison Population Sets Budget Askew

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Maryland's Department of Correction hasn't spent a cent of its fiscal 1962 budget but James W. Curran, superintendent of prisons, says the budget already is out of kilter.

Curran told a Senate Finance Committee Thursday the prison population estimate of 5,575 used in preparing the budget already has been exceeded.

Curran said the present prison population is 5,706, an increase of 501 inmates in the past 14 months. The budget was prepared last July.

Curran said the department would have recourse to an emergency fund if the present trend of increasing population continued.

The Department of Correction has requested general funds totaling $8.1 million and capital improvement funds of $3.3 million for operation during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The capital budget includes a $2.5 million item for first-stage construction of a new 1000-bed correction institution. The prison's chief expects to have the preliminary plans in hand by March 13 for the facility.

Curran told the Senate committee the department plans to add 100 new employees during the coming year, including 79 at the Patuxent Institution for defective delinquents. They would be used largely to staff a new diagnostic center at the institution.

Sen. Edward S. Northrup, D-Montgomery, expressed alarm at the shifting of funds between different programs at the House of Correction. Northrup told Curran he felt the department "could better anticipate" certain expenditures, such as replacement and new equipment.

McClellan Named

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes Thursday announced appointment of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., as deputy president of the 20th International Navigation Conference scheduled at Baltimore Sept. 11-19. Sen. John Marshall Butler, R-Md., previously had been named president of the meeting.

Local Boat Tax Proposal Killed

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Boat owners will continue to ride tax free on Maryland waters.

The House Ways and Means Committee voted unanimously Thursday against giving local governments the authority to impose a personal property tax on all boats under 100 feet in length.

A state tax on them was repealed in 1954. The State Association of County Commissioners had asked the legislature to give the subdivisions the right to reinstate it.

H. T. Slaughter, president of the association, was the only one to speak in favor of the tax at a hearing before the committee.

A hundred boat owners were on hand to record their protest. Thousands more were represented through the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Club Association, the Maryland Boat Dealers Association, the Greater Severna Park Council, and the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Racing Association.

Bible Readings Case Revived

BALTIMORE (AP)—A professed atheist and her son came to grips with the city of Baltimore in court Thursday in testing the legality of religious readings in city public schools.

Circuit Court Judge J. Gilbert Prendergast heard arguments on a petition by Mrs. Madalyn E. Murray and her 14-year-old son William protesting the scriptural readings.

Mrs. Murray withdrew her son from school last fall in protest to the religious readings. The boy resumed classes when school officials ruled students objecting to the readings could be excused.

Later, Mrs. Murray charged the readings themselves were illegal. Her attorney, Leonard J. Kerpelman, argued Thursday a school board rule provides textbooks "shall contain nothing of a sectarian or partisan character," and that this rule also should apply to scriptural readings.

Attorneys for the city argued the readings are subject to the discretion of the school board, and cannot be contested by the legal procedure chosen by Kerpelman.

Judge Prendergast said he would rule on the case after lawyers for both sides file briefs supporting the arguments.

Construction Down During February

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Construction activity declined somewhat in February, partly because of exceptionally bad weather, the Commerce Department reported Wednesday.

After allowing for the normal seasonal decline of 5 per cent from January to February, the Department estimated public and private construction combined dipped one per cent last month. Expenditures totaled $3.58 billion, down 1 per cent from February, 1960.

Science At Work

By The Associated Press

A magnetic star, a babel of languages, and notes on black widow spiders figure in the science news:

STAR

Astronomers are intrigued with a faint star which has the strongest magnetic field known in nature. Its magnetic field is some 35,000 times greater than the earth's, but it fluctuates, sometimes being only 12,000 times the earth's field.

The star, in the constellation Lacerta, was analyzed in spectrograms taken by Dr. Horace Babcock at Mt. Wilson and Palomar observatories with the great 200-inch telescope.

Chinese-Mandarin leads the lot, being spoken by 460 million people. English runs second, with 250 million speakers.

Languages like Tadjik, Melanesian, Chuvash and Fang-Bui are in the one-million class. Nineteen of the 130 languages are mother tongues of citizens of the Soviet Union.

BLACK WIDOWS

As his roommates at Emory University, Bill Bracewell has a colony of more than 500 black widow spiders, and is rearing more.

The pharmacology doctorate student wants about 1,000 of them, to extract enough venom to take it apart chemically and test the effects of the components on the nervous system.

Ninety per cent of baby spiders hatched from eggs live, unless the mother eats them, as she has already done with her mate, Bracewell says.

"The black widow's bite will not kill people in normal health, although it is sometimes fatal to older persons and children," he says.

Use Of Global TV As Cold War Weapon Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A leading television executive called Wednesday for the use of "global TV" as a major weapon in the cold war.

"We cannot afford to relinquish our pre-eminent position in the area of electronic communications and must take the initiative through the medium of global television" for a "quick and sure" counter offensive in the propaganda war, Leonard H. Goldenson, president of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc. said.

"Television, on a global basis by reaching people directly, can, in effect, bring peoples together—dissipating suspicion and highlighting common goals over individual differences," Goldenson said in remarks prepared for a San Francisco advertising club meeting.

He also urged American business to "strike out to the global community, utilizing television as it has so well domestically," and predicted international television systems "in the not too distant future" by means of communications satellites.

More than three million Americans now live on wheels. These are mobile homes whose dwellers reside in some 12 thousand such parks throughout the United States.

Poise, speed, and a stiff upper lip were essential to South's plan of survival in today's hand. After East's preemptive call, South's bid of four hearts is probably the most acceptable. Without much in spades, the take-out double seems undesirable and the jump to four hearts has the merit of avoiding confusion. North felt that he had sufficient values upon which to base a slam effort, but there were the two losing diamonds staring him in the face. His bid of five hearts was intended to convey to South the impression that the partnership was solid all around except for diamonds. South gave the bid that construction and, with the protection offered by the king of diamonds contracted for slam.

There is some question as to whether his choice of slams was sound. North's bid of five hearts made it evident that he had two losers in diamonds, which raised the likelihood that a diamond ruff was a menace to South's slam in hearts. The preemptive bid if based on a seven card diamond suit would place West with a singleton. That North has distinct values in spades and clubs can hardly be questioned, so that a no trump slam appears to be a safe venture. South might go all out himself or he might pussy-foot with a bid of five no trump giving North a choice in the matter. North should, of course, select the no trump slam.

West led the deuce of diamonds. East won with the ace and, without the slightest trace of emotion, South dropped the king. To play either the six or the jack would be fatal for West's deuce is too easy to identify as a singleton. The play of the king made it appear that the opening lead had been made from J-6-2 and East returned a spade in what appeared the only chance to beat the slam. Declarer was in and, after drawing trumps, he found a convenient parking place for his losing diamonds on dummy's high clubs.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was struck by Alice's letter. She wrote that her charming boy friend spent all of 35c on her in the three years they had been going together. I think I must be dating the same man. There can't be two.

Alice's letter made me see my own situation clearly and I am dropping the bum as of now. Please print this letter because he reads your column every day (free office copy) and I'm sure he will recognize himself.

I've spent whole days with him and he never so much as asked if I was hungry. At times I've become faint and wanted to stop for a cup of coffee. He'd say "You'll be home in a few minutes, and your coffee is so much better than the commercial stuff." Then he'd take me right home.

When I have suggested a movie he'd say "People are more interesting than pictures," then we'd go to the park and sit.

It took Alice's letter to open my eyes and I am deeply grateful. From now on, he can stay at home and rattle his small change for entertainment.—KAY

DEAR KAY: Congratulations on the good riddance. Why not give the last of the red hot spenders a farewell gift—a few mothballs for his change-purse.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter will be 16 in April. She is big for her age and has been going with fellows since she was 12.

Six months ago she fell in love with a fellow 20. He is in the army and stationed 12 miles from here. She nagged us after her third date to let her quit school and get married. My husband and I refused to give her permission. We insisted that she wait 18 months, until after graduation.

In October they said they wanted to get married right away because he may get transferred. We finally gave in with the understanding that she would remain in high school regardless.

Now her husband is being transferred and she wants to quit school and go with him. What can we do? —SICK PARENTS

DEAR SICK: You can take turns kicking one another for allowing a 15-year-old girl to get married.

Now that she's a married woman (1) she belongs with her husband. Encourage her to enroll in high school wherever she lands and hope that she'll have sense enough to do it. In the meantime, don't rent her room. The chances are better than even that she'll be back.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know you don't write a health column but my problem is a matter of common sense than medicine. Please tell who is right.

This morning I was heating the baby's formula. I wasn't sure the milk was warm enough so I tested it by stirring it with my finger. My husband walked into the kitchen at that moment and

| 1½ pounds Queen City Cottage Cheese         | 1 teaspoon salt             |

Judge Clarifies Ruling On Indictments In Hardy County Murder Case

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Judge H. Gus Muntzing has clarified his ruling in the indictment against five Hardy County residents alleged to have been involved in the murder of Eldridge Lee Ritter, 33, of Stephens City, Va., last July 14. The jurist explained that he ruled out five of six counts in the indictment. Actually, Judge Muntzing said, his ruling was that the indictment only contained one count, conspiracy to commit murder.

Car Output To Drop In U. S. This Week

DETROIT (UPI)—Automotive News said Thursday car output in the U.S. this week will total an estimated 92,684 units compared with last week's output of 100,457 autos. The trade publication said 10 car makers were shut down at least partially this week for inventory adjustments.

It was the opinion of the court, he continued, that the various charges were not intended as separate counts, and that therefore the indictment was "good."

Judge Muntzing said his opinion in effect was that no part of the indictment was ruled out, and that anything in the indictment charging more than conspiracy was held to be surplusages. Judge Muntzing conferred Wednesday with the defense attorneys and ruled that the men should be tried jointly. He also set the trial for Monday, March 27, in the Hardy County Circuit Court.

Americans consumed more than three billion quarts of ice cream last week, according to a survey by the National Ice Cream Association.

Meeting Monday To Discuss City Ambulance

A meeting between city officials, heads of the local hospitals and an individual interested in providing ambulance service here will be held at City Hall Monday.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said the city is not going into the ambulance business but is trying to help C. C. McDonald of Romney, get established here and assist in obtaining cooperation with him by local hospitals and other groups.

Astor Ambulance Service has announced it will discontinue service to the community next month. Financial loss is the major reason.

Bowie has been accepted for entrance to Yale in September.

Board Approves Several Budgets

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has approved a number of budgets submitted by department heads.

A request of the Board of Election Supervisors was approved with a total of $39,537 listed. The Allegany County Planning Commission budget of $25,000 was approved with a slight cut in the amount.

The budget of $67,200 for the County Library system was also approved. The County Assessing Department budget of $49,148 was approved. Part of the salaries of the assessors is paid by the state.

A number of smaller budgets such as the State Department of Forests and Parks and the Extension Service (all for Allegany County's share of their costs) have previously been okayed.

Cumberland Again Without Scheduled Airline Service

Cumberland is without scheduled airline service again.

The latest phase in the on-again, off-again situation was completed Wednesday when the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, D. C., said Allegheny Airlines authority should be discontinued here. The order becomes effective April 29.

Meanwhile, it was learned today that Algonquin Airways, which had offered flights between here and Washington, D. C., since last November, dropped all such service on February 21 because of lack of business.

John Nash, operator of Cumberland Municipal Airport, said Algonquin has moved its planes and equipment from Cumberland to Montgomery County Airport, its home base.

Nash offers charter service from the local airport and there are a number of private and company-owned planes based there.

Despite concerted effort by the City of Cumberland, Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, industries and individuals, hopes had been dim that the CAB would overrule Allegheny Airlines on its petition to drop the city from its routes. The airline has not served the city since February 1959 and claimed it lacked business here and that the terrain also was a factor in its move to leave. Efforts to get a federal subsidy for Algonquin Airways as a means of keeping it in service here, also failed.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech, a flying enthusiast and ardent supporter of airport service and airline service, expressed himself as "very disappointed" in the actions by the CAB and Algonquin.

The Mayor indicated he felt it is time, in view of troubles experienced here in regards to air service, that a study is made to determine just what future use the airport can be.

It does not make sense, the Mayor said, that the airport when built was believed adequate in size and from the safety standpoint but is presently considered by some sources as not adequate.

Keech added it is an "outrage" to think that the government has

Parking Ban Cooperation Cited

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney yesterday praised the cooperation of residents along four streets where restricted parking has been instituted by the Police Department.

Chief Gaffney said there is practically 100 per cent cooperation with the one side-only parking regulation on Sedgwick Street, Gephart Drive and Piedmont and Rose Hill avenues.

A number of other streets are under study for possible one-way traffic and one-side parking, Chief Gaffney said, but no action is contemplated in the immediate future.

The thoroughfares, the chief said, are being patrolled and violators will be ticketed. The Police Department, he continued, is aware that the parking ban is an inconvenience to some of the residents on the four streets, but pointed out that the restriction has been imposed for reason of safety.

Bloodmobile Schedules Two Visits In Area

Employees of the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Fibers Company are being solicited for blood donations when the mobile unit of the Johnstown (Pa.) Regional Blood Center visits the plant on Monday.

The recruitment at Amcelle is being handled by a joint management-union committee headed by Harry W. McCunn, supervisor of personnel administration, and James R. Stewart, president of Local 1874, United Textile Workers Union.

The co-chairmen said their 25-member committee is conducting the recruitment on a departmental basis, stressing the fact that even if the employees do not sign up for appointments they can report to the mobile unit as "walk-ins."

The Amcelle plant was one of the first industries to sign up in the Red Cross blood program, McCunn and Stewart pointed out. Monday's visit will be the seventh since the start in August of 1957.

A total of 1,275 pints of blood have been collected from Amcelle employees in the six previous visits, the co-chairmen said, and it is hoped that Monday's turnout will insure that the quota will be met.

The unit will be at the plant from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. for the convenience of donors.

A second area visit will be made by the bloodmobile on Tuesday, according to Mrs. John D. Lohnas, Red Cross recruitment chairman.

The mobile unit will be in Piedmont on that day, and residents of Piedmont, Westernport and Luke can donate blood between the hours of noon and 6 p. m.

There were 200 pints of blood collected at the visit of the bloodmobile here last month, the first public appearance of the unit in four months.

Mrs. Lohnas said the industrial plant visits have been instrumental in keeping the blood program going in Allegany County, pointing out that the project was on the verge of being dropped until the various plants volunteered to assist.

Seventy-two per cent of the respondents rated the papers as friendly.

Mr. Rusk And The SEATO Meeting

Secretary of State Rusk's decision to attend this month's SEATO meeting at Bangkok emphasizes Washington's concern over the strain developments in Laos have imposed upon anti-Communist defenses in Southeast Asia.

Within eight-power SEATO, Britain and France seem to have been less disturbed than the United States over Sino-Soviet support for the Laotian rebels. While the major powers have been debating, the treaty's two Southeast Asian members, Thailand and the Philippines, have criticized SEATO as being in-lined more to talk than action.

Rusk's presence in Thailand's capital should demonstrate, however, the deep interest of the United States in Southeast Asia as well as in Europe.

SEATO'S Asian members have voiced some misgivings on that score, and their sensibilities no doubt would have been offended if the Secretary had attended NATO talks in May, as scheduled, without first having visited with his SEATO colleagues.

When Rusk took office he said that, unlike his predecessors, he intended to spend most of his time in Washington. Perhaps he will, but judging from the SEATO and NATO obligations, the demands of cold war diplomacy may decree otherwise.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
Hidden Attack On Hoover

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, was reappointed by President Kennedy and so far as anyone knows, he intends to remain on the job. However, "The Insider's Newsletter," says that some Washington "insiders" predict that Hoover will be out of the top FBI job by Summer.

A direct inquiry brought no confirmation of such a prediction but one can always wait for a Summer to come. Hoover has given 40 years of his life to the FBI and undoubtedly expects to give more years.

Why is it that the rumor is so often spread that J. Edgar Hoover will resign, when it is quite well known that he will not resign but could, of course, be dismissed by his chief, the Attorney-General. Hoover is not likely to make it easy for anyone by resigning because he does not choose to risk the integrity of the FBI by making it easy for anyone to use it politically.

The day must come when Hoover will not be able to continue in his job, for such a time comes to all men unless they die with their boots on. When that day comes, it would be J. Edgar Hoover's hope that his successor might be a person in the FBI and not some politician who could use this mighty agency of government to the disadvantage of the American people.

Whenever it has been proposed that the FBI be expanded into a national police force, Hoover has opposed it. He has also opposed amalgamating the FBI with the Secret Service, the Bureau of Narcotics, the investigative agencies of the Immigration Service and State Department, because it has always been his theory of operations that the only way to protect the people from a Gestapo-like organization is to limit its functions. There have been times when the FBI was so popular that Hoover could have got any measure through Congress: he avoided expansion beyond efficiency as he avoided becoming an independent agency outside the Department of Justice.

Whereas, in the past, there have been direct attacks on J. Edgar Hoover, the current campaign is more subtle. It is devoted to creating an atmosphere of imminent departure.

It is like suggesting that a man is about to die or is really dead already. It starts out with the assumption that a man is too old, that he ought to retire, or will soon retire. It is like the propaganda a year or so ago that Justice Felix Frankfurter was retiring and a number of judges and lawyers put themselves in noticeable positions with the hope that the spotlight might fall on them. Frankfurter fooled them all. He just stayed on and said nothing.

It was like that with Vice Admiral Hyman Rickover. All sorts of plots were devised to end his days in the Navy. It was not planned for him to resign, rather he was to be passed over so that he would no longer be there. It was such a simple plan. But Congress took a hand at that one. The scheme fell short of its purpose and the United States has its fleet of atomic submarines which it was expected that Rickover would not succeed in building.

So it is now with J. Edgar Hoover. There are some who are anxious for him to retire and to have some outsider, perhaps someone whose "green file" would make startling reading, chosen in his place. They spread this report that he is on bad terms with Robert Kennedy, the Attorney-General, who is Hoover's chief. Robert Kennedy is an astute man who has had long service in the investigative functions of Congress. He knew his way around the FBI before he became Attorney-General. Thus far, he has avoided any political mistakes or getting involved in a controversy with Congress. It is not likely that he will fall for the scheming and plotting which always go on in Washington as they do in every world capital. For to dismiss J. Edgar Hoover would start such a fracas as no one needs: surely not a person with political ambitions and political sense. Those who hopefully speculate on the prospect of Hoover's resignation have, I fear, been talking to the wrong insiders.

But then that is so generally true in any capital, particularly Washington, where the real insiders are those who work on the job rather than at a cocktail party.

'Gee - It Still Works'

Mr. Thompson And The Litmus Paper Tests

By Joseph Alsop

LONDON
With somewhat hated breaths, the Western policy makers are now waiting for the first real litmus paper tests of the Soviet attitude toward the new American President. The U. S. Ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn Thompson, returning to his post with a Presidential letter to Nikita S. Khrushchev, is obviously a piece of litmus paper in human form.

An even bigger, more decisive piece of litmus paper will be applied on March 20, when the halting negotiations about a nuclear test-ban will begin again in deadly earnest. Last week, David Ormsby-Gore, the British Minister of State who has been in charge of these negotiations, started preparatory talks with the Kennedy administration. Moreover, Ormsby-Gore's preliminary discussions have evidently produced important results.

Over the weekend, he called up powerful reinforcements. The permanent British negotiator, Sir Michael Wright, the chief scientist of the Defense Department, the chief of the Aldermaston Nuclear Weapons Laboratory, and other key persons, left London for Washington on Sunday. There is optimism here about early agreement on a firm, fully united Anglo-American approach to the test-ban problem.

This will be a decided novelty in itself. In the past, to tell the truth, a firm, fully united Anglo-American approach was never really possible, because the American government's own approach was neither firm nor united.

There were three reasons for this infirmity of the American attitude. First, there was a sharp split in the government between those who thought a test-ban positively undesirable, and those who took the opposite view. Second, the scientists kept changing the calculations of risks involved in a test-ban. And third, no one ever quite decided how to weigh the other set of risks involved in the absence of a test-ban.

The optimism about early agreement of a united approach to the problem arises from a reported decision by President Kennedy about the right balance of risks. Such a decision was needed, for rather simple reason that one cannot now hope for a ban on nuclear tests supported by a really cheat-proof inspection system. There must always be some risk of cheating by underground nuclear tests, which are especially hard to detect.

Thus the question is not whether a risk-free test-ban agreement can be negotiated with the Soviets. The question is whether there is more risk in an agreement ending nuclear tests, which is not absolutely immune to cheating, or more risk in continuation of the present situation, which absolutely insures the eventual spread of nuclear power to other nations.

President Kennedy and his chief disarmament planner, John J. McCloy, have come down on

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

BROTHER ACT—When Dwight Eisenhower was in the White House, he was subject to a lot of criticism because of the occasional consultant work he called on his brother Milton, a college president, to perform for the government.

There was a time when Ike's right wing opponents openly charged he was under the influence of his brother, who had served in the government during the New Deal of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

That wasn't the only brother act in the Eisenhower administration, however. There was John Foster Dulles and his brother, Allen. Foster was secretary of State; Allen was head of the Central Intelligence Agency. There never was any criticism of this duo, as most observers considered it good for inter-governmental liaison for the two to be in such sensitive positions.

The Kennedy administration is not to be outdone in the brothers department. There is Robert, appointed by his President-brother, Jack, to be Attorney General.

Another set of brothers exists in McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's special assistant for national security, and William P. Bundy, recently appointed a deputy to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Affairs. William worked for Allen Dulles in the CIA until last year. He is a son-in-law of former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

RED CUBA—An ambassador of a smaller country, assigned to Washington, but also his nation's envoy to Cuba, is telling friends of his observations while on a trip to Castro-land.

He had not been to Havana for a number of months, but when he arrived there recently, his hotel was loaded with nothing but Russian and Chinese Communists.

He was aware, of course, of increasing Communist influence in the Central American country, but had no idea it had reached such proportions. Needless to say, he has informed the U. S. State Department, as well as his own capital, of developments there.

He found one ray of hope in the situation, however. It occurred when a woman asked him plaintively, whether he was a Communist, too.

The way the woman framed the question, it was obvious to the envoy that she, at least, was apprehensive of the Red take-over in her homeland. The ambassador believes many other Cubans are of the same frame of mind.

Race Problems Hurt U.S. Prestige Greatly In Latin American Nations

By Drew Pearson

MARACAY, Venezuela — One factor which has hurt us in Latin America far more than most North Americans realize is Little Rock and the race question.

To illustrate how sensitive this is, Carter Gardner, long-time American manager of the Hotel Avila, was thrown in jail when he refused to give hotel accommodations to Marian Anderson, the Negro singer. There is no law in Venezuela against segregation, and no law to punish those who practice it. Gardner was just thrown in jail anyway.

This illustrates how strongly Latin Americans feel about racial discrimination.

It also illustrates the reaction, minor so far, but bound to grow, regarding the Kennedy appointment of Charles Meriwether of Alabama, closely associated with one of the most anti-Negro campaigns ever staged in Alabama, as a director of the Export-Import Bank.

On the bank, Meriwether will be in charge of making loans to the Negro republics of Africa. Yet he was the campaign manager and partial speech-writer for Gov. John Patterson, who exoriated the Negro during his campaign, brought suit as attorney general to outlaw the NAACP, and has announced that as governor he would "close every school in Alabama before I let one nigger enter 'em."

George Blowers, the Export-Import Bank director whom Meriwether replaces, is fairly well known in Latin America, having visited Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia on special missions. More important, he is an expert on Africa, where he was governor of the State Bank of Liberia and of Ethiopia, also revised the currency of Saudi Arabia.

Blowers, a Democrat appointed by Eisenhower, has a wealth of experience in Africa and Latin America. Meriwether, the Democrat appointed by Kennedy to replace him, has had experience only in Alabama politics.

Anti-Semitic Record
Jack Anderson has sent me a significant document showing that Meriwether was also close to the Ku Klux Klan and helped to inspire some of the anti-Semitic statements of Adm. John Crommelin, whose campaigns for the Senate he managed. The document is already in the hands of the FBI. Anderson has called Meriwether more than a dozen times to give him a chance to comment. So far no reply.

The document is a report from a campaign worker for Admiral Crommelin who also worked with Meriwether. Though his name must be withheld, for fear of retaliation, there is no question about his reliability.

"In 1954," the report states, "Crommelin ran in the Democratic primary for Senator against John Sparkman. I stayed with Crommelin during his entire campaign. I was paid $100 a week plus expenses and acted as his bodyguard. Meriwether was with him all the way in this campaign."

"It is my recollection that it was Meriwether who gave Crommelin the idea about campaigning against the 'Communist Jewish conspiracy.' Meriwether went everywhere with Crommelin during that campaign and I went with them."

"I can recall one trip the three of us took to Mobile, Ala., when Crommelin was scheduled to make a speech over television."

"Crommelin's speech was very radical and in it he attacked the 'Communist Jewish conspiracy.' After the speech we all got together in one of the hotel rooms and Meriwether said 'You should have made it stronger John. We ought to run all the damn Jews into the Atlantic Ocean.' Mrs. Crommelin was so angry at her husband's speech that she just picked up and left."

Cooperation With KKK
Meriwether's cooperation with the Ku Klux Klan was demonstrated by the Montgomery Advertiser when its reporter surwether replaces, is fairly well known in Latin America, having visited Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia on special missions. More important, he is an expert on Africa, where he was governor of the State Bank of Liberia and of Ethiopia, also revised the currency of Saudi Arabia.

Mrs. Crommelin was so angry at her husband's speech that she just picked up and left."

Cooperation With KKK
Meriwether's cooperation with the Ku Klux Klan was demonstrated by the Montgomery Advertiser when its reporter surprised Meriwether at Patterson's headquarters in conference with Bob Shelton, then Exalted Cyclops of the Tuscaloosa Klavern.

After the election, when Meriwether became Patterson's finance director, Shelton was paid off for his very important support. As sales representative for B. F. Goodrich he got a $1,600,000 tire contract from the state of Alabama. Meriwether, as director of finance, was in charge of the state purchasing office.

U.S. Royal was low bidder, but Meriwether gave the contract to Shelton and Goodrich anyway.

Here are further significant portions of the report on Patterson, Meriwether and the Ku Klux Klan:

"During Patterson's 1958 campaign, the Klan was extremely active and it was the Klansmen who did all the actual work in the field such as hanging up posters, distributing literature, and organizing motorcades. I saw a number of these motorcades and recognized a number of Klansmen in them. Also I know a Klan motorcade when I see one. It is my understanding that Meriwether had full knowledge of the Klan's participation in the Patterson campaign, and as a matter of fact he was the one who dealt with Shelton."

"After Patterson was elected governor, Meriwether got Shelton a job with Goodrich Rubber Co., and after that most of the tires bought by the state of Alabama were bought from Goodrich through Shelton. However a couple of years ago, because of pressure, Goodrich had to let Shelton go. Shelton is now Grand Dragon of the Alabama Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

Note — Jack Anderson informs me that Sen. Willis Robertson of Virginia, chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, is preparing to give Meriwether just the opposite treatment that he gave George Weaver, the housing administrator. In the case of Weaver, a Negro, Robertson instructed the Banking and Currency staff to prepare a dossier from information supplied by the White Citizens Council attacking Weaver. Robertson also demanded a letter from Kennedy stating that the FBI had cleared Weaver.

In the case of Meriwether, the friend of the Ku Klux Klan, Robertson has instructed his staff to prepare nothing, and will not query Kennedy regarding any report from the FBI. The Senator from Virginia is planning to rush the Meriwether confirmation through at top speed, with as little questioning as possible.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

MIAMI, Fla.—The phone rang. I snapped the night light on. It was 3:20 a.m. I got out of bed. My father was sleeping, as he has for years, on a chair. His legs were on an end table. A sheet covered him to the chin. The white hair, the face in repose, made him look like a dead cardinal. I fumbled for the phone. "Hello?" A young man's voice said: "Dad? Gayle had her baby ahead of time. It's a girl."

"Yes," I said sleepily. "Her baby?" Then I came to. "Her baby? Gayle had her baby?" Frank Gerace told it again. I was wide awake. The questions flew like runaway missiles: How is she? How is the baby? How much does she weigh? Why didn't you tell me she was in labor? When did it happen? What do you mean you didn't want to bother me? Where is she now? What does the doctor say? Is there anything I can do?

It was incredible that my little pet onion had become a mother. She eloped at 16, and she was always a gay tomboy who could climb a fence, drive a speedboat, shoot a basket, swim in a heavy sea, make fun of her father, be a child or be an old lady, at her whim. When Elinor died, three and a half years ago, it was Gayle's gaiety that swept the gloom from the house.

Now she was an old married woman of 17. I went back to bed thinking, Virginia Lee has four: the twin girls, Robin and Pamela, 2½; Jim 1½; Kevin 6 months. Now there was a fifth one, a little girl born to a little girl. I got out of bed and nudged my father.

He opened one eye. "Hah?" he said. I said "Gayle has had a little girl." He closed the one eye. "Is that so?" he said dreamily. There was a silence. Without opening the eyes, he said: "That makes my tenth great-grandchild. More silence. 'My famli' sure comes up with the goods.'"

In the morning, I phoned Ginny. She wanted to fly right down to Miami. "Daddy," she said, "Gayle is only a baby herself. She needs me to explain things to her." Virginia Lee is an old crone of 23. I said "Your own Indians need you more than Gayle needs you."

I went to the hospital. The nurses had all the bassinets lined up behind glass.

Relatives were saying "Ooh" and "Ahhh" and the infants looked red and wrinkled and their tiny arms and legs jerked spasmodically and the little mouths contorted with tears. This is the way life begins. This is the way it ends.

Some women were saying: "Who is that one in the back? Over there on the left." It was an infant whose skin was pale pink, a baby with cheeks so fat that they hung like eggdrops. Its eyes squinted open and the tiny fingers kept moving, one by one, in slow motion. "What a pretty baby!"

The masked nurse looked at the card at the foot of the bassinet. She held it up for the women to see. "Gerace" it said. Two buttons went off the front of my jacket and bounced on the marble floor. Gayle's baby. Frank's baby. Of course. Who else?

Gayle looked good. She was in a robe and Frank was helping her to walk around the room. A flood of memories came back on a windy tide. It was yesterday—maybe the day before—that Gayle used to come bouncing in from school yelling "Hey daddy! What's new among the squares?"

It couldn't have been more than yesterday—maybe last week. She loved her mother to distraction, but she couldn't show it. She went to the store after school, did all the shopping, got glasses of water for her Nanny, never forgetting the three cubes of ice, and used to gripe because her mother liked to bathe her in the kitchen sink.

When she was eleven, she sat white with suds moaning: "I'm going to be the only kid ever married out of the kitchen sink." Her mother said: "Oh keep quiet. You may be the only girl ever married out of the seventh grade if you don't study harder."

Most of all, the child adored her mother. When Elinor died, Gayle said practically nothing. When her mother's name was mentioned, the child left the room. Ginny and I thought that Gayle was callous. The truth, as we found out later from a doctor, was that she was in a shocking depression which lasted until she fell in love with Frank Gerace.

I put my arms around her and I said: "How do you feel, ox?" She grinned. "I'm fine. Did you see the baby?" I nodded. "She's beautiful, honey, and I'm not saying it to please you. Now you have your own live lord. Have you decided or a name yet?"

"Yes," she said and the smile died. "We're going to name her Elinor..."

Bowman's Addition Sets Record For Heart

The heart fund drive in Bowman's Addition, under the chairmanship of Leo Emerick (center), had the most successful campaign ever during February. Only meager donations were received in this area prior to 1958, and nothing at all during that year. Emerick took over the Bowman's Addition drive in 1959 and collected $57.65. In 1960, his organization obtained $87.35, and last month he and his workers collected $105.02, not including a contribution from the Bowman's Addition Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary. Looking over return reports are area captains, Mrs. Mae Bonner, left, and Mrs. Zola Wright.

New Liquor Study Proposed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Legislature received two resolutions Thursday dealing with liquor control and distribution of state aid to schools.

Introduced in both the House and Senate was a resolution calling for a study of West Virginia liquor laws, with a report to be made to the 1962 Legislature.

The other proposal called for a study of the methods of distributing state aid to schools because the present system is "impractical."

The Legislature's Joint Committee on Government and Finance would make both studies.

On the whisky question, the committee would be asked to make recommendations for changes, such as the possibility of a constitutional referendum on liquor-by-the-drink.

The other resolution introduced in the Senate, said some major changes are needed regarding state aid to schools because current law has "made it impossible to determine whether the present system adequately meets the needs of the public school system of the state." The study report would be made to the 1963 Legislature.

Barron Signs Marshall Bill At Dedication

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. W. W. Barron signed the "Marshall University" bill into law Thursday night during ceremonies dedicating a new $1.9 million health and physical education building at the institution.

Barron, a West Virginia University law graduate whose daughter attended Marshall College, hailed the name change and the new campus structure as "progress for the entire state."

The controversial bill giving university status to Marshall was enacted Wednesday and made effective from passage after two weeks of wrangling and maneuvering.

Barron, speaking at a dinner held in conjunction with the dedication, said the new building "means improvement not only for the Huntington region and southern West Virginia, but for the entire state."

The governor presented the pen with which he signed the bill to Marshall president Stewart H. Smith.

Marshall, named after Chief Justice John Marshall, was founded in 1837 and became a state institution in 1867 — the same year as West Virginia University at Morgantown.

Ham-Apricot Sandwich

Ham 'n jam on raisin bread—what a match for the hungry man-on-the-job. Hearty lunchbox fare that also appeases a sweet tooth is this Ham-Apricot Sandwich. The filling for the raisin bread brings together 1 cup of chopped, cooked ham and ½ cup apricot jam or puree.

Curried Eggs Chinoise
A Lenten Delicacy

In China eggs are considered a great delicacy and much care is taken to combine them with the most enhancing ingredients. Egg dishes may be flavored with a hidden half clove of garlic, a fine powder made of field mushrooms, a bit of dried bean curd or green ginger, or — as in our recipe — with molasses, hot mustard and curry spices. This recipe uses light, mild New Orleans type molasses to complement the eggs. Molasses, of course, is the golden liquid distilled from sugar cane, a sweet grass native to China. Marco Polo watched the Chinese making open kettle molasses in the 13th century and brought home to Italy tales of sugar and spices that opened trade routes of the world.

Curried eggs Chinoise make a perfect lunch or light dinner for Lent. Serve with Chinese noodles and a cold vegetable salad.

Ingredients

2 tbsps. butter or margarine
2 tbsps. flour
½ tsp. curry powder
¼ tsp. salt

1 small onion, grated
½ cup water
¾ cup New Orleans molasses
¾ cup vinegar
6 hard-cooked eggs
1 tbsps. hot prepared mustard

METHOD: Melt butter or margarine in saucepan; add flour, curry powder and salt. Stir until blended. Add onion and liquids; cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Slice eggs lengthwise; mix yolks with mustard; stuff. Pour sauce over eggs. Garnish with parsley or water cress. Yield: 6 generous servings.

How To Pan-Fry Trout

The taste of trout can be ruined by improper preparation in the kitchen. By following a few simple principles, however, the succulent flavor of trout can be brought out in the cooking process.

If time allows, trout should be thawed before cooking, unless they are already boned and breaded. Regular dressed trout should be rinsed, dried and then rolled in seasoned flour, cornmeal or cornflake crumbs. The body cavity and the outside skin should be salted and peppered.

Your pan should contain enough peanut oil or vegetable oil to cover one-half of the trout. This oil should be hot but not smoking. If oil is of the correct temperature, the tail of the trout will sizzle when placed in the pan.

Place trout in pan so as not to touch each other. When golden brown (usually in about 3 or 4 minutes), turn with spatula and cook other side. Turn only once.

Trout can also be deep fried. They should be prepared the same as in pan-fried trout. Deep fryer should be preheated to 350 degrees. Immerse trout and cook about three minutes until golden brown.

Cheese Straws

2 tablespoons soft butter
2 cups (½ pound) shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
¼ teaspoon salt

Few grains cayenne pepper
1 cup sifted flour

Using low speed on mixer, or wooden spoon, beat butter until soft. Gradually beat in cheese, salt and cayenne pepper until mixture is a soft paste. Stir in flour; blend well. Mixture will be very stiff. Shape into a solid ball and roll out between two pieces of waxed paper until ¼-inch thick. Cut into strips ½-inch wide and 3 to 4 inches long or in other desired shapes. For variety and flavor sprinkle with caraway seed, sesame seed or additional cayenne pepper. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and bake in hot oven, 400°, for 8 to 10 minutes. Makes 5 to 6 dozen straws.

Trout For Lenten
Menu

Pan-fried trout served with crisp salads and garnishes like pickles, olives, tomatoes and celery make the perfect combination for the Easter season table.

The whole family, big and small, can enjoy trout if it is cooked properly and served with the right finesse. And if your religious beliefs require the observance of Lent, trout fits right into the menu.

Native trout and trout raised on the trout farm are raised in cool mountain water in similar environments. The meats of both are of the same texture, flavor and nutritive content. . . high in protein, low in fat and rich in B vitamins—thiamin, riboflavin and niacin.

For the homemaker, trout raised on these farms are packaged in three different forms, regular dressed trout, boned trout and boned and breaded trout. The boned and breaded trout don't even have to be thawed. They can be taken fresh out of the freezer, popped into the frying pan and cooked in about eight minutes, 4 minutes on each side.

Be careful not to overcook trout. Too much cooking dries out the meat.

One or two 8 or 12 ounce trout should be served each person. The tart taste of pickles, either dill, gherkin or sweet, will add to the flavor of the cooked fish. Tossed green salads, cole slaw, sliced tomatoes, stuffed olives, celery and carrot sticks and even cranberry sauce will add color, distinction and taste.

Lemon juice can be added to the salad dressing in place of vinegar. This will give the desired tang and compliment the taste of the trout.

Trout can also be served with potatoes, any vegetable, rolls, tartar or other type sauces, etc. Be sure you add a slice of lemon to the plate so your family can enhance the flavor of the trout meat to his or her taste.

Norwegian Seafood Ideal Lenten Treat

This Norwegian platter is truly a seafood lover's delight. Ideal for Lenten menus, it features tangy and plump sardines from the cold, mineral rich waters of Norway's fjords, filets of lemon sole, jumbo shrimp and deep-sea scallops. Easy to prepare, too.

Ingredients
2 (3½ oz. each) cans Norway sardines
4 small filets of lemon sole
8 jumbo shrimp
8 deep-sea scallops
2 tomatoes, halved
4 mushroom heads
Olive oil
Bread crumbs
Parsley butter
Parsley bouquets (garnish)
Sections of lemon (garnish)

Method: Open and drain the Norway sardines. Roll the sardines, filets of sole, shrimp, scallops and tomato halves in bread crumbs. Add the mushroom heads. Sprinkle all with olive oil and broil until golden brown. Dress on a serving platter or in a ramekin with the sardines between two tomato halves at each end, filets in the center covered with the shrimp and scallops. Top the tomato halves with the broiled mushroom heads. Sprinkle parsley butter over all and garnish with parsley bouquets and lemon sections. Serve with boiled potatoes, and mayonnaise or tartar sauce on the side. Yield: 4 generous servings.

Frozen Peach Custard Pudding

2 packages frozen sliced peaches (24 ounces)
1 tablespoon frozen lemon juice
2 eggs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
18 saltines, rolled to make large crumbs
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup softened butter or margarine

Defrost peaches by letting stand at room temperature in unopened container for approximately 2 hours. Turn peaches with their juice into bowl and add lemon juice. Beat eggs and combine with melted butter or margarine and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Add rolled crackers to egg mixture. Combine all with peaches. (This recipe requires no added sugar except for topping.) Turn into shallow greased 1½-quart or 1½-quart casserole. Blend together the brown sugar, sifted flour, cinnamon, and softened butter or margarine and sprinkle over the custard mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) approximately 35 minutes until browned and a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serve either warm or cold. Serves eight.

Fine Spread

For a delicious spread add enough crushed potato chips to a can of white tuna fish to take up all the oil. Beat well, add the juice of a lemon and ½ tsp. dry mustard. If dip consistency is preferred add a little bottled mustard sauce.

This Week In Congress by Rep. Charles Mathias

At the time this column goes to press, the House is scheduled to consider the proposal (HR 4806) calling for temporary extension of unemployment compensation benefits. Because of the importance of this legislation to the people of Western Maryland, I should like to devote the majority of this week's column to the subject.

During recent weeks, I have traveled throughout the Sixth District discussing the unemployment question, talking with those people currently out of work and most closely affected by the problem, seeking the suggestions of business leaders, labor leaders and others concerned with this vital subject.

It is clear that conditions have developed since the election last November that call for enactment of a temporary program to alleviate hardship in areas with a substantial labor surplus.

Prior to debate on the Floor of the House, the House Republican Policy Committee issued a statement supporting a proposal for temporary extension of unemployment benefits, which was being considered by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Policy Committee suggested that the cost of this program should be defrayed by a temporary increase in the federal unemployment tax rate sufficient to repay advances by the Federal Treasury. This plan for administration was endorsed by the State Administrators of Unemployment Compensation who testified before the House Ways and Means Committee.

I am in agreement with this statement of policy.

On February 23, the House Ways and Means Committee reported the bill to the House with provisions for extension of benefits to those whose unemployment payments are or would be exhausted between the dates of June 30, 1960 and March 31, 1962. The period of extension will be for 13 weeks or for 50 per cent of the prior coverage, whichever is the lesser.

The date estimated for the availability of relief to the eligible unemployed people in the Sixth District and others throughout the nation is early April.

It should be noted that the period of extension will end with benefits exhausted by March 31, 1962. This is the temporary feature of this measure, and it is my belief that business conditions in the country will be materially improved by that date so that further need for relief will not be necessary.

I am glad to report that an improvement in the weather in Western Maryland has stimulated business and that many construction workers are already headed back to the job.

Congressional Reapportionment

On February 22, I testified in Annapolis before a joint hearing of the Judiciary Committee of the Maryland House of Delegates and the Maryland Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee on the subject of Congressional redistricting of the State of Maryland.

According to the 1960 Census, a perfect equality of population in the eight Congressional Districts of Maryland would require — in round numbers — 390,000 people per district. Under the Administration proposal the First Congressional District would be 42.4 per cent below equality while the Sixth Congressional District would be 62.2 per cent in excess of equality. A study of the deviation from equality of each of the proposed eight Congressional Districts is as follows:

Districts	Population	Population (287,386)	Deviation from Equality
1	223,395	—	-42.4%
2	621,935	—	+60.5%
3	290,097	—	-25.2%
4	286,573	—	-26.1%
5	293,947	—	-24.2%
6	628,841	—	+62.2%
7	362,454	—	+6.5%
8	393,547	—	+1.5%

In a state with one of the longest records of representative governments in the world, it is hard to justify these figures.

Pineapple-Raisin Stuffing Muffins

In shape for their platter performance are pineapple-raisin stuffing muffins. To make the stuffing mixture, saute ½ cup finely chopped onion, until tender, in ¼ cup shortening. Mix well with 2 quarts soft raisin bread crumbs, ½ teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper, and 1 (No. 2) can drained, crushed pineapple. Press ½ cup of bread stuffing into each section of a greased muffin pan (this amount makes a dozen). Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 30 minutes. This stuffing recipe can also be used when preparing roast fowl.

Frozen Peach Oatmeal Crisp

2 12-oz. packages frozen sliced peaches
1 cup rolled oats
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup flour
½ cup butter or margarine

Defrost the frozen peaches only partially about an hour in unopened containers at room temperature. Meanwhile, mix remaining ingredients thoroughly and turn half of the mixture into a greased 8-inch-square baking dish. Turn peaches into bowl and lift the icy peach slices out of the juice to place on the oatmeal mixture in pan. (Reserve juice to flavor punches and ades.) Top peaches with remaining oatmeal mixture and bake, uncovered, in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 45 minutes. Serve warm with coffee cream to pour over or with whipped cream. Serves six.

Here is a third frozen peach dessert — this with sugar-and-spice topping on peach custard. Do not be alarmed by the lack of milk in the list of ingredients — the frozen peach juice is the flavorful liquid in this custard.

Cheese-Coconut Finger Sandwich

Fancy finger foods, such as cheese-coconut finger sandwiches, prompt tea-timers to "take two" — no coaxing needed. Here's the secret of the hidden persuader: Spread raisin bread slices with a combination of equal parts of cottage cheese and toasted, grated coconut, a dash of salt, and a little mayonnaise for a creamy texture. Top with another raisin bread slice and cut into bars, or serve open faced.

Sherry Cream Ring

1½ cups thin cream
½ teaspoon grated orange rind
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¾ cup California Sherry
2 (3-oz.) packages cream cheese
¼ cup milk or orange juice
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup honey
2 level tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt

Scald cream with orange rind in top of double boiler. Soften gelatin in Sherry. Soften cheese and blend with milk or orange juice. Mix until smooth the eggs, honey, flour and salt. Stir into hot cream. Cook over hot water until smooth and slightly thickened; stir frequently. This takes about 10 minutes. Remove from heat; add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add cheese and beat until blended. Pour into an 8-inch ring mold, and chill until firm. Unmold and serve plain or with frozen raspberries or strawberries or drizzled with butterscotch sauce.

Sauce Hernandez

A wonderful sauce with broccoli is this one from Spain. Mash a hard-cooked egg yolk, blend with 1 raw egg yolk; beat in ½ teaspoon of salt and a teaspoon of prepared mustard, then slowly beat in 2 tablespoons of Spanish olive oil. Finally add ½ tablespoon herb vinegar. It's something like mayonnaise but easier and quicker to make, with a more distinctive egg flavor.

New Flavor Treat

For an entirely new flavor treat try these marinated tomatoes. Cut 1 1/2 lbs. tomatoes in thick slices, sprinkle with 1/2 tsp. sugar, 1 tbsp. dill, 1 tsp. ground pepper, and the juice and rind of 2 lemons. Let stand. Just before serving add 2 tbsp. finely crushed potato chips instead of salt.

Spicy Apple Pie

Washington
Use your favorite recipe for apple pie... with this twist: Mix 2 tablespoons granulated sugar with 2 tablespoons American Port or semi-sweet table wine and pinches of cinnamon and nutmeg; spread over hot baked pie. Slide under broiler 'til top bubbles to give a crisp savory crust.

Congressional Viewpoint

by Sen. John M. Butler

Although it is a little early in the year for most prognosticators, the Maryland State Planning Department has come up with one encouraging economic prediction for the state:

"The current economic recession will presumably have little effect on consumer income and the spending habits of Marylanders who purportedly will spend an estimated record high $4 billion of the $7.5 billion predicted individual income for 1961."

The report analyzes Maryland's 23 counties and Baltimore City by population, income, the number of households and retail sales, concluding: "On the basis of these retail sales estimates and the predictions of individual income, the economic outlook for the state of Maryland in 1961 appears most favorable."

Yet, as encouraging as this prediction is, it must not be used to gloss over the presence of pockets of unemployment in Maryland. Within the last month, I have met with representatives from Hagerstown and Cambridge to discuss their economic problems. We agreed that their efforts to encourage the placement of new industry and the expansion of existing business should be supplemented where possible by federal cooperation.

With this principle in mind, I wrote to the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of Labor and the General Services Administrator requesting them to comply with the President's directive to "improve the machinery by which federal contracts can be channeled to firms located in labor surplus areas." Such action, of course, should be taken on the basis of the merit and need of the firms concerned. The replies have been reassuring.

In addition, I introduced a resolution two weeks ago calling for an investigation into the concentration of federal defense contracts on the West Coast and particularly in the State of California. It may come as a surprise to some, but at present from 1/4 to 1/3 of all government procurement contracts are handled by plants and firms in California. I want to know, and I believe the public is entitled to know, why one state out of 50 receives the lion's share of these contracts.

A thorough and impartial investigation will clear the air of all doubts and suspicions. My request for such an inquiry is presently before the Armed Services Committee, and I am hopeful that it will receive their close scrutiny in the near future. The findings of such an inquiry should determine whether there is a studied pattern of partiality in the Department of Defense relative to the awards of defense procurement contracts.

Avocados Stuffed With Crab Meat

1 pound crab meat
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped olives
3 ripe avocados
1/4 cup grated cheese

Remove any shell or cartilage from crab meat. Melt butter; blend in flour. Add milk gradually and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Add seasonings, pimiento, olives, and crab meat. Cut avocados in half, remove seeds. Fill centers with crab mixture. Sprinkle cheese over top of each avocado. Place your carving set, give it good... in a well-greased baking pan, care. Keep it separated from 12 x 8 x 2 inches. Bake in a moderate oven, 350° F., for 20 to 25 minutes or until brown. Serves 6, needs only occasional sharpening.

Southern Style Ham Loaf With New Tangy Glaze

Homemakers will find this suggestion for Southern-style ham loaf a welcome relief to commonplace menus. The tangy molasses glaze, whether you prefer the light mild or dark full strength variety, gives this dish that gourmet touch. Ideal for left-over ham.

Ingredients (loaf)
2 pounds ground cooked ham (8 cups)
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
1 tbsp. molasses
1 cup cracker crumbs
dash of pepper
1 (no. 2) can sliced pineapple

Ingredients (glaze)
1/2 cup brer rabbit molasses
2 tps. dry mustard
1/2 cup cider vinegar
3 tps. pineapple juice (from canned sliced pineapple)
Method: Combine loaf ingredients; pack mixture into greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3. Bake in hot oven (400-degrees F.) 1 hour; or until center of loaf is firm. While loaf bakes, combine glaze ingredients; simmer 5 minutes. Turn loaf out onto heatproof platter; brush with hot sauce; return to oven for additional 10 minutes to glaze. Serve remaining hot sauce on the side. Yield: 6 generous servings.

Care Of Carving Tools

To get full cooperation from your carving set, give it good... in a well-greased baking pan, care. Keep it separated from 12 x 8 x 2 inches. Bake in a moderate oven, 350° F., for 20 to 25 minutes or until brown. Serves 6, needs only occasional sharpening.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — The Academy as director to take Sir Carol Award nominations came out Reed's place on "Mutiny on the pretty much as expected with the Bounty." Sir Carol, who has a exception of Doris Day missing for "Midnight Lace." She was on almost every published poll of possibilities. It's purely personal with me, but I'm sorry that Melina Mercouri ("Never On Sunday") won out over Doris.

As I understand it, "Never On Sunday" originally was intended to be classified as a foreign entry, where it really belongs—and this should also apply to the actors. Last year, Hollywood voted its top acting honor to a foreign star, Simone Signoret in "Room at the Top." Are we going to keep on doing this above our fine American actresses?

If European countries would return the compliment, it might not be so bad. American movies compete in many foreign "film festivals"—and seldom win anything. I think it is high time the Academy listed and voted on foreign entries in a foreign film category.

The Robert Kennedy book "The Enemy Within" is really a documentary and it will have to be fictionized when it's put up on the screen by Jerry Wald. He and Spyros Skouras went to Washington to consult with Attorney General Kennedy who wants Marlon Brando, of all people, to play his role.

20th Century-Fox is trying to get Budd Schulberg to write the script.

There's one testimonial dinner that nothing will keep me from attending, and that is the producers ninth Milestone Award Dinner honoring Adolph Zukor. I claim to have known Mr. Zukor longer than anyone in Hollywood, outside of his family. He has been a friend of mine from the time he was the head of the old famous Players Company, and he was one of the men responsible for getting me my job in New York on the Morning Telegraph after my Chicago paper folded.

On his 88th birthday, Mr. Zukor had a special photograph taken for me, which I treasure. He is a very fine man. In our industry, we too often forget to honor the men and women who really deserve recognition.

Black Hawks Clinch Stanley Cup Berth

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Black Hawks stunned the New York Rangers, 7-1, Thursday night to clinch a Stanley Cup playoff berth.

Spring has sprung
The grass has risen
We wonder where
The baseball is!

Even poetic license can't abide such crude rhyming as this. But, from the purely opinionated standpoint of the baseball buff it seems in keeping. More and more, day by day, sports news turns to spring training and with this comes the usual avalanche of stories about fabulous rookies and grizzled veterans and year-in, year-out stars. Soon a goodly portion of the "hot" prospects of today will be long gone and forgotten... the races for league titles will be assuming a pattern and partisan fans will have the "fever."

If you can't beat 'em, join 'em. A tattered cliché, but true. So, come join us as we investigate the prospects of all eighteen "count 'em" major league teams for the season of 1961.

Naturally our allegiance hasn't changed since last season nor will it change... but we will surprise you and listen. What better way to relax than to enjoy delicious food and drink while discussing your favorite sport at The Cas Taylor's, corner-N. Mechanic and Valley Streets!

CATAMOUNTS' TROPHIES—Capt. John Allen, the team's top scorer, holds the trophies won by Potomac State College's basketball team in the Tri-State Junior College Conference. The Catamounts won the regular season championship with a 9-1 record and swept through the conference tourney at Keyser by disposing of Catonsville, Montgomery and Shenandoah of Winchester. Allen, incidentally, did not accompany the Catamounts to the Junior College regional tournament at Binghamton, N. Y. He has been ailing and has been under observation for several days in the Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

St. Michael's Is Victor Over St. Joseph's 52-38

Wins 16th In Row; Cresaptown Scores In Fearer Playoffs

St. Michael's unbeaten cagers and Cresaptown Methodist advanced into the finals by winning opening matches in the Fearer Memorial Basketball League playoffs last night at Beall High gym.

St. Michael's whipped St. Joseph's, 52-38, in the nightcap of last night's doubleheader, to rack up its 16th consecutive victory this season. The undefeated quintet completed its regular season with a 15-0 mark.

St. Joseph's battled the heavily-favored St. Michael's on even terms in the first half, leading 11-10 at the end of the initial quarter, but then faded rapidly in the last two periods after trailing only 24-20 at intermission. St. Michael's held a 40-28 edge at the close of the third stanza.

Ed Bevans dumped in 25 points to pace St. Michael's scoring attack while Mills and Carter tallied 13 and 11 respectively for the losers.

In the opening fray, Cresaptown got a 26-point effort from Steve Vandenberg and came from behind to down Dickerson & Wesley, 45-40.

Vandenberg scored 10 of his team's 17 goals and added 6 for a total of 14 to spark Cresaptown who trailed 14-7 and 23-21 at the end of the first two periods, but led 32-29 at the close of the third quarter.

Ralph Spriggs was the big gun for D. & W. with 12 tallies.

Cresaptown earned the right to enter tonight's finals at the foul line where the winners outscored D. & W. 11-2. The losers had a 19-17 advantage in field goals.

South Carolina upset North Carolina State 80-78 in the second game of the afternoon doubleheader. The Gamecocks will play the winner of the night game between second-seeded Duke and Virginia in Friday's semi-finals.

Maryland's victory over Clemson moved the Terps into the semi-finals against top-seeded Wake Forest, which received a first round bye.

Maryland outshot Clemson, 54.7 per cent to 29 per cent, and cashed in 21 of 24 free throw attempts.

Bob Eicher, a 9.5 average man for the season, hit 23 points and Bill Stasulatis got 22 for Maryland to offset the 28-point performance of Clemson's Choppy Patterson. The loss for the Tigers was their eighth without a victory in tournament play.

Oldtown Loses To Emmitsburg Cagers, 47-38

Frederick Countians Go To Class C Final

Coach John Horine's Emmitsburg High School quint advanced to the finals of the Maryland District One Class "C" tournament by eliminating Oldtown High School of Allegany County last night at South Hagerstown High School by the score of 47-38.

Emmitsburg will play Hancock for the district Class "C" crown Saturday at 3:30 p.m., at Hagerstown and the winner will qualify for the state championship event next week at College Park.

The underdog Oldtown team made a fight of it all the way and battled the Frederick countians on even terms until the count reached 29-29 in the third period. A field goal by Terry Fleagle broke the last tie of the game and Emmitsburg held the lead until the final whistle.

Emmitsburg took a 15-8 lead in the first period but failed to score a field goal in the second stanza as Oldtown rallied to tie the score of 18-18 at the halfway mark. Charley Youngblood's goal put the Allegany countians in front at 20-19 and it was nip and tuck from there until Emmitsburg went ahead to stay late in the third stanza.

Terry Fleagle paced the winners with six goals and 7-10 fouls for a total of 19 points. Donald Sweeney aided the winning cause with five baskets and 12 tallies. Youngblood and Jerry Davis sparked the Oldtown attack with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Emmitsburg outscored Oldtown 18 to 15 from the field and meshed 11 of 18 free throws against the losers 8 for 21.

Sweeney and Davis fouled out in the final period.

The win gave Emmitsburg a 16-3 record going into the district final. Oldtown wound up its season with seven wins and 16 losses.

Terps Score Tourney Win

Maryland Tops Clemson, 91-75

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Sharp-shooting Maryland led all the way in a 91-75 first round romp over Clemson Thursday to open the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball championship tournament.

South Carolina upset North Carolina State 80-78 in the second game of the afternoon doubleheader. The Gamecocks will play the winner of the night game between second-seeded Duke and Virginia in Friday's semi-finals.

Maryland's victory over Clemson moved the Terps into the semi-finals against top-seeded Wake Forest, which received a first round bye.

Maryland outshot Clemson, 54.7 per cent to 29 per cent, and cashed in 21 of 24 free throw attempts.

"Dusty" Rhodes, 43, Softball Hurler, Is Taken By Death

James Anthony "Dusty" Rhodes, 43, well known softball pitcher, died yesterday at Keyser.

Rhodes played in the Rocking Chair Softball League early in the 1960 season for Ritter's A.C. and won two games and lost one. In past seasons he hurled for the Celanese A.A. of the Rocking Chair League and other teams in the tri-state area.

"Dusty" is survived by his widow and six children — four girls and two boys.

Adams Rides Four Winners At Bowie

BOWIE, Md. (UPI)—Larry Adams, bidding for the jockey title at the Bowie meeting, booted home four winners Thursday, including Sunnybrook Farms' inladder in the featured seven-furlong event.

Nimattar, a 4-year-old bay colt, took the lead from Grey Beau halfway through the race and turned on the speed in the stretch to win by 2 1/2 lengths. Destiny Unknown finished third, trailing Grey Beau by a nose.

Adams also scored triumphs aboard Singing Bush ($8.80) in the third race, Gray Rock ($11.60) in the fifth, and Pro-Brandy ($14.00) in the finale.

West Virginia Winner, 89-71

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—West Virginia got its sputtering fast break clicking late in the first half and went on to trounce VMI 89-71 in the final game of the first round in the Southern Conference Tournament here Thursday.

George Washington pulled off the biggest upset of the four game session by dumping highly touted Virginia Tech 84-83. William and Mary went to three overtimes to dispose of Furman 86-84 and The Citadel edged Richmond 70-66 in other games.

The Mountaineers met William and Mary in the semi-finals Friday night and The Citadel meets GW.

Promoter Says Life Threatened By Frank Carbo

Leonard Testifies Against Gangster

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Fight promoter Jackie Leonard testified Thursday underworld boxing czar Frankie Carbo threatened to kill him if he did not go along with a scheme to "muscle in" on former world welterweight champ Don Jordan.

He said Carbo, 56, threatened to gouge his eyes out. Leonard, who previously claimed he was beaten and knocked unconscious outside his home in a June, 1959, incident, also charged Carbo and Frank (Blinky) Palermo demanded 50 per cent of Jordan to assure a shot at the championship.

Leonard, first key witness in the trial of Carbo, Palermo and three others for conspiracy and extortion, quoted Carbo as saying:

"I've controlled that title for 25 years, and no damn young punk like you is going to take it away from me."

"...You're going to get hurt. And when I say hurt I mean dead."

When Carbo and Palermo demanded 50 per cent of Jordan, or there would be no fight, Leonard said he told Palermo "you got a deal." But he testified Don Neseth — then Jordan's manager — wouldn't agree to any such scheme.

Board Reduces Budgets Of Two Departments

Health, Sheriff Requests Trimmed

Budgets for the Allegany County Health Department and for Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein and the County Jail for the fiscal year starting July 1 were reduced by a total of $21,890.92 from the original requests at a hearing by the Board of County Commissioners last night at the Court House.

The Health Department budget, which had requested $114,116.25 in county funds for the new fiscal year, was lowered to about $104,218.33 after the commissioners conferred at length with Dr. Ton van Strien, the county health officer, and Mrs. Jennie Grahame, administrative assistant.

Sheriff Haberlein had sought a total of $66,830.25 for the new fiscal year but was granted a total of $54,737.25. Although that budget is $2,824.34 above the total granted last year for the sheriff and jail, the increase is more than accounted for by the boost in capital improvements, which will be up $4,725 above the $2,075 included for this purpose in the current budget. The capital improvements for the new fiscal year total $6,800.

New Positions Eliminated

Reductions in the Health Department budget were realized by dropping off all five new positions which Dr. van Strien had requested. These included a full-time public health physician at $10,620, a supervisor of nurses at $5,040, a sanitarian at $4,790, an additional registered nurse at $4,040 and an additional junior clerk receiving $2,610.

However, not all of these salaries can be figured as savings for the county. In the first place, Dr. van Strien had suggested that the public health physician would take the place of a number of clinicians who are hired on a day-to-day basis. The additional cost between the clinicians and the full-time physician's salary is only $3,880.

The second factor is that the county now pays 43.8 per cent of the overall cost of the Health Department, the state providing the rest of the funds under the Case formula.

So, despite the fact that the overall budget reduction attained by eliminating these requested new jobs is $22,598, only 43.8 per cent of that, or $9,897.92, actually will be saved by the county. The state saves the rest.

The revision in the Case formula for this county for the next fiscal year is responsible for a $13,395.96 increase in the county's share of the Health Department costs. They are going up that much on an identical Health Department program because the county's percentage is being increased from the 38.5 per cent prevailing in the current fiscal year.

John J. Rowan, president of the Board of County Commissioners, expressed some concern over the fact that county residents who can afford the services of a private physician are attending the county's clinics.

Dr. van Strien emphasized that 91 of these clinics except those for polio shots are designed exclusively for the medically indigent. The general public is invited to take advantage of the polio clinics.

Food Budget Questioned

In the discussion of Sheriff Haberlein's budget, Commissioner John T. Mason was the leader in questioning various items in the budget. The talk began on the subject of the food budget. Sheriff Haberlein said that he arrived at the figure of $10,950 for food by estimating the average daily jail population at 30 and figuring that it cost about $1 daily to feed each of them. His food budget for the current year has been figured at 75 cents per day per prisoner.

The sheriff also said that for the past several months the jail population has been averaging about 45 prisoners. It gets down to a low of about 20 in the summer. It finally was agreed to round the food budget off at $10,000 for the year compared with the present $8,212.

Sheriff Haberlein had asked for a total of $10,800 for capital improvements. Commissioners Mason, Rowan and William A. Wilson agreed to leave the $2,000 for radios for cars and $2,000 for a heating system in the jail intact. They completely eliminated a $2,000 contingency fund from the capital improvements, lowered the new car allowance $400 to $1,600; dropped the item for a porch on the jail from $1,500 to $800; struck out $350 items for kitchen sink and air conditioners and reduced the item for cleaning and painting the jail $200 to $400.

Although the General Assembly in Annapolis approved a bill raising the sheriff's salary above its present $4,800, this increase cannot become effective until after the November 1962 election. Increases were approved for his deputies under the county merit system.

Returns To Work

Mrs. Alice Engle, Frostburg, yesterday resumed her duties as senior stenographer in the sanitation section of the Allegany County Health Department. She has been ill for the past six months.

MISS HELEN WRIGHT

Styles To Be In Limelight At Show Here

West Side School Event March 8

A new fashion perspective for the women who sew will be presented by Miss Helen Wright, special field representative of a New York pattern company, next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of West Side School.

The adult clothing class members also will be given suggestions about planning a well-organized wardrobe for their many activities. Miss Wright will emphasize construction techniques to give a garment a professional finish, and how to accent an outfit with the proper accessories.

The event is sponsored by the home economics adult education program under the supervision of Miss Ruth C. McCullo, county supervisor of home economics education.

Miss Wright received her B.S. degree in costume economics from Carnegie Institute of Technology, and her M.A. degree in clothing and textiles from Columbia University Teachers College.

SRC Files Two Condemnation Actions Here

Two condemnation suits seeking land needed for the east approach to the Cumberland Thruway were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court in behalf of the State Roads Commission.

Oddly, the County Commissioners of Allegany County are parties defendant to both cases because there is a county real estate tax lien against both properties. The City of Cumberland similarly is involved in the second suit because of a city real estate tax lien against that property.

The first suit was filed against Edith Beck Stallings Donahue and Bernard Grover Donahue, her husband, 27 Weber Street, and the County Commissioners of Allegany County.

Sought in this action is some 22,447 square feet needed in Election District 23 on the East Side beyond the city limits near U.S. Route 40.

The other suit was filed against Forest View Inc., 230 Baltimore Avenue; the County Commissioners and the City of Cumberland. Some 19,805 square feet of this property in Election District 22 on the East Side within the city limits is needed for the east approach right-of-way.

Deposited with the suits with Joseph E. Boden, clerk of the Circuit Court, were two checks totaling $5,100 which the SRC believes is a fair price for the properties needed. The Donahue check was for $2,475 and the Forest View check for $2,625.

Both suits were signed by John B. Funk, chairman-director of the SRC; Thomas B. Finan, attorney general; Joseph D. Buscher, special assistant attorney general; and Peter J. Carpentieri, special attorney for the cases.

Five Women Report Theft Of Wallets

Three Suspects Arrested Here

Five local and area women yesterday complained to city police that their wallets which contained a total of $167 were stolen while they were shopping in two downtown stores.

Last night three young men were arrested by local police for questioning in connection with the thefts yesterday afternoon. Two of the wallets were recovered, police said.

Among the complainants is Mrs. Elizabeth V. Boyd, of Lonaconing, who said $94 had been stolen from her wallet which was later found on a parking lot on Baltimore Street.

Mary E. Powell of 706 Lafayette Avenue, said $43, cards and other items had been stolen from her; Barbara Matthews, Corriganville, reported $23 had been removed from her wallet, later recovered on another counter in the store; and Frances Gordon of 117 Fifth Street complained that $4 had been taken from her.

Last night a Romney, W. Va., woman reported that her wallet containing $5 had been taken from a local store.

One of the complainants accompanied City Police Detective James E. Van to police headquarters. Van and Detective Kenneth Morrissey talked with the woman and showed her various pictures of past offenders in the detective files.

The woman said she was certain that one of the pictured men was the one who took her wallet. The young man later was picked up for questioning. Two others also were picked up.

The woman told police she had been standing at one of the counters and noticed that her pocketbook was open and she found that her wallet had been taken.

When she remarked that it had been stolen another woman at the same counter glanced at her pocketbook and found that her wallet was missing.

Charges Dropped In Problem Over LaVale Sewage

Charges against five LaVale property owners for failure to correct a sewage problem along U.S. Route 40 have been dropped, according to the Allegany County Health Department.

J. B. Dowling, sanitation supervisor, said all five property owners have complied with the Health Department's orders and have made repairs to a sewage line which serves their homes and leads to a main line.

Mr. Dowling obtained the warrants for the five residents after they failed to remedy a sewage problem last month.

A hearing in the case had been scheduled this afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court.

Polio Clinic Is Popular

The Allegany County Health Department said yesterday that 401 persons attended an immunization clinic held in the Union Street Building Wednesday afternoon.

Polio shots were given to 392 persons and vaccinations against smallpox to nine others.

Eighty-five persons received first polio shots at the session. Included were 19 in the 1-5 age group who received a multiple shot to protect against polio, diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus.

Health officials were pleased with the attendance, which was 144 more than on the previous Wednesday.

Company C Gets 'Excellent' Rating

The local tank unit's rating was based on the overall efficiency of the company. Lt. Norman D. Messman is company commander.

Father Bradley Circle 1218, Frostburg, will be in charge of Chief Counselor Charles Barry and Counselor William Colgan. The delegation of about 15 from the circle will be headed by William Kidwell, deputy chief squire of Maryland.

Cardinal Mooney Circle 1225, Mt. Savage, will be in charge of Chief Counselor Robert Carter. The delegation of 15 members will be headed by Arthur King, state burser, Counselors John Stevens, Walter Meade, Edward Monahan and Greg King also will attend.

Representatives of the recently organized circle at Piedmont will be in charge of Jerome Laffey, chief counselor, who is expected to be accompanied by Joseph Dick, Robert Myers, John Laughlin and Joseph McGreevy, counselors; James Kenny, grand knight of Piedmont Council 586, K. of C.; John Atkinson, past grand knight, and several of the Squires.

The bill was introduced by the Allegany County Delegation and Del. Joseph A. Urban, Baltimore.

It would make it an unlawful employment practice for an employer to refuse to hire or discharge a worker, or discriminate against him in compensation, conditions or privileges because he is between 40 and 65.

Passage of the legislation is being urged by the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Under the proposal, the term "employer" does not include a club exclusively social, or a fraternal, charitable, educational or religious association if it is not organized for private profit.

One would extend from three to five years the period in which death must result from an injury in order for dependents to receive benefits.

The other would extend from two to three years the time limit for filing claims for injury benefits.

First Grade Registration Scheduled March 16, 17

Boys and girls who will be entering the first grade in Allegany County public schools next September will be registered by the school principals on Thursday and Friday, March 16 and 17, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county schools.

Principals have been requested to make a thorough canvass in their respective districts in order to register all of the pre-school children who will be entering school in September.

Only children who will have reached their sixth birthday on or before December 31, 1961, will be eligible to register between 3:30 and 5 p.m. March 16 and 17. The age of each child must be verified by a birth certificate. Those who do not present birth certificates at the time of registration should do so prior to enrollment in September.

The schools also seek information from parents as to whether their children have been vaccinated.

As additional children who fall under the classification for registration move into the community after registration dates, they should be reported to Mr. Higgins from time to time.

Water, Sewage Problems Will Be Discussed

Water and sewage problems of Allegany County will be discussed at a meeting Wednesday, March 8, at 6:30 p.m. in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Robert T. Register, Baltimore consulting engineer, will be a principal speaker at the dinner meeting sponsored by the water resources committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Register is head of Robert T. Register, Inc., and has been consulting engineer for a number of water and sewage projects and studies in this area, including the modernization of Cumberland's water treatment facilities at Lake Gordon, and the construction of the city's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant.

He is currently making plans for rehabilitating the gate chamber at Lake Gordon and for installing low-lift pumping facilities to tap a water supply that will not flow into the plant by gravity. Alvin H. Wilson, chairman of the Chamber committee, will preside at the dinner meeting.

Discrimination Bill Introduced

Copies of House Bill 453, to prohibit discrimination in employment because of age, have been received by Herman L. Myers, secretary of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The bill was introduced by the Allegany County Delegation and Del. Joseph A. Urban, Baltimore.

It would make it an unlawful employment practice for an employer to refuse to hire or discharge a worker, or discriminate against him in compensation, conditions or privileges because he is between 40 and 65.

Passage of the legislation is being urged by the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Under the proposal, the term "employer" does not include a club exclusively social, or a fraternal, charitable, educational or religious association if it is not organized for private profit.

One would extend from three to five years the period in which death must result from an injury in order for dependents to receive benefits.

The other would extend from two to three years the time limit for filing claims for injury benefits.

Second Night Store Opening Is Successful

Shoppers Throng To Downtown Area

Stores affiliated with the Retail Merchants Association last night pinned a "tremendous success" tag on Thursday night shopping.

The "kickoff" of the second night store opening was held on Baltimore Street at 6 p.m.

Allen Luck of LaSalle High School won the football kicking contest which officially opened the new Thursday night shopping hours.

Baltimore Street was fairly well filled when the contest began, and was generally crowded until stores closed at 9 p.m.

A drawing will be held today at noon at the Times-News building. Mayor J. Edwin Keach will officiate as the winner of the $100 gift certificate is selected.

Comments from stores varied from "as good as Monday" and "well satisfied" to the accolade of a "tremendous success."

Shoppers made good use of the free parking available at four Coach System parking lots for the first Thursday night store opening.

The Thursday night shopping hours are being offered residents of the Tri-State area in addition to the traditional Monday night store hours.

One advantage cited by those who turned out to make the second shopping night a success was that it gave an opportunity for leisurely shopping.

Crowds downtown, police said, were larger last night than on Mondays.

Equity Suits Filed

Two new equity suits were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Nellie L. Shroyer vs. Robert R. Shroyer and Bessie DeVault vs. Robert DeVault.

By 1966 the federal grant was estimated at $2 million to finance 2,905 scholarships.

Because of the probable federal help, the Senate subcommittee also halved the creation of 800 new type scholarships recommended by the council group.

In addition to the federal money, the subcommittee also took into consideration the recent announcement by Gov. Tawes that students of teaching will be granted free tuition at the University of Maryland, Maryland State and Morgan State.

It was estimated the state would receive $270,900 for 387 scholarships from the federal government if Congress approves a effort to reorganize and greatly increase college scholarships granted by the state.

It proposed that the present system awarding 1,527 annual scholarships be continued and that only 400 be added.

A Legislative Council committee, after two summers of study, had called for an increase of 1,142 scholarships.

The Senate Finance subcommittee, headed by Sen. Mary L. Nock, proposed to continue the existing state scholarships because of the likelihood of receiving federal funds for more.

Job Tax Hike Delay Serious, Senators Told

Kimble, Successor In Disagreement

By HERB THOMPSON
ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Federal officials warned the legislature Thursday that postponing a tax increase scheduled for employers April 1 will lead to troubles in Maryland's jobless benefit fund.

They testified at a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing also marked by a clash in opinion between the incoming and outgoing directors of the Department of Employment Security.

Stephen Cromwell, deputy director and a career employee who is being elevated to the directorship by Gov. Tawes effective May 31, said forestalling the increase would not imperil the fund's solvency.

Robert B. Kimble, the outgoing director, said it would be a grave mistake.

"The General Assembly has an obligation to guarantee the solvency of the benefit fund," Kimble said in urging that the tax boost be allowed to take effect.

The dispute centered around an emergency bill introduced by Sen. Frederick C. Malkus, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, to head off an automatic tax increase scheduled to take effect for most of the state's employers April 1. District Bill Passes

In chief activity on the floor, the Senate passed and sent to the House the administration's bill to form a new congressional district with Prince Georges and Howard counties. It cleared unanimously and without debate.

Ely Artenberg, deputy chief of actuarial and financial services for the U. S. Bureau of Employment Security, and Joshua M. Levine, in charge of the bureau's regional office which includes Maryland and five other states, both urged that the legislature not tamper with the jobless benefit tax formula.

Artenberg said the formula change, designed to save employers $5 million in tax increases over the next three months, would be a "very, very bad step to take" and could endanger the long range solvency of the benefit fund.

Cromwell and spokesmen for retail merchants and the Baltimore Association of Commerce urged passage of the bill as an aid to business in the midst of a recession.

Would Lower Base
The bill would lower the floor at which an increase becomes mandatory — from the present level of $57 million or 3 per cent of the total wages paid by employers last year to a new floor of $38 million or 2 per cent of total wages.

At present Maryland employers are paying taxes ranging from 1.5 per cent to 4.2 per cent on the first $30,000 of a worker's wages. Those with the best experience rating on job turnover pay the lowest rates.

If the automatic tax increase takes effect all employers will pay at least 3.9 per cent. Those with high ratings will continue paying up to 4.2 per cent.

Cromwell, leading off testimony in favor of the bill, said the move "will not cause insolvency of the trust fund."

"I believe it will avert a serious threat to the economy of the state and assist in a more rapid recovery of business from its present declined position," he said.

He said the reserve fund contains $59,280,000 and four weeks of benefit payments from it in March will bring the level down to about $52.5 million.

Kimble "Embarrassed"

Kimble said he was in the "embarrassing position" of having to oppose his successor. He said Maryland had never recovered from the recession of 1953 and now finds itself in another that may continue over the next 18 months with no prospect the reserve fund will be replenished.

Artenberg and Levine warned that Maryland may find itself in the position of Pennsylvania, Michigan and Alaska which have exhausted their reserves from employers and are now having to borrow from the federal government.

Artenberg said there had been a continuous "watering down" of the Maryland fund for the last 10 years instead of taxing employers more in good times to take care of bad times.

"That's the real reason the Maryland fund is where it is now," he said.
